County Tax Rate 11 Cents Higher Now

Barring last-minute changes, Marin County's tax rate for fiscal year 1967 will be $2.295 per $100 assessed valuation, up 11 cents from last fiscal year.

The increased rate is coupled with a 12.2 per cent increase in assessed valuation in the county.

DEADLINE NEAR

The rate was recommended today by county auditor-controller Michael Mitchell. Supervisors must adopt a rate next Tuesday.

Today's recommendation was five cents higher than Mitchell's last estimate of three weeks ago. He blamed further reduction in revenue accounts for the new increase.

Subventions for the welfare department are down by $85,904 from the preliminary budget estimate, and savings from unfilled positions on the county payroll are down by $100,000, Mitchell said.

REVENUE OFF

Substantial reductions in revenue estimates were made because of the slump in land transactions and building. Recorder's fees were reduced by $45,000, buliding inspection fees by $35,000, and planning department fees by $10,000.

Mitchell also recommended a library tax of 16.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up a half cent over last year, and a structural fire protection tax of 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up 10 cents from last year. These are in addition to the $2.295 which applies county-wide.

HOSPITAL CENTER WORK IN DOUBT

New Mental Health Center Construction May Wait For Federal And State Funds

By RICHARD LYTTLE

County Auditor Michael Mitchell said today he would not hesitate to recommend against awarding a contract for the county mental health center at Marin General Hospital if assurance of federal and state funds is not received.

Following Mitchell's letter to county supervisors yesterday, in which he pointed out developing shortages in county funds, a meeting was held in his office with Marin Hospital District and county officials.

Mitchell said Mrs. Marian Ibach, president of the hospital board, promised to seek approval by her board of an amendment to the contract to allow the district share of the cost, $150,000, to be turned over to the county on request of the auditor. This is to go to the hospital board Sept. 13.

The contract presently calls for the hospital money to be paid only after the county has paid a portion of the cost.

Mitchell said he hopes to have the remaining $119,000 pledged by private contributors turned in by the required deadline, 10 days before the contract is awarded.

Bids are to be opened at 4 p.m. Tuesday. Contract award can be held up to 30 days.

Under the financing plan, the

SAIGON (UPI)—Several U.S. infantrymen were killed and more than 20 wounded today when two U.S. Air Force jets mistakenly dumped fiery napalm on an already bloodied American unit, then turned and strafed its ranks for five minutes with 20mm cannon fire. (See picture on page 6.)

The fighter-bombers swooped in on the position of a battalion from the Army's 1st Infantry Division near Phu Loi, 30 miles north of Saigon, as the Americans were cleaning up the last pocket of Viet Cong resistance from a two-day battle which had been costly for both sides.

"It took five minutes on the radio to get him to quit firing at us," 2nd Lt. Walter Harrison of Taylor, Tex., told UPI correspondent Leon Daniel in describing one run.

Troopers from the "Big Red One" killed at least 70 Viet Cong in the heavy fighting which preceded the accidental bombing. American losses were "moderate," commanders at

Point Reyes Land Bill Trimmed To $4 Million

The Senate Interior Committee yesterday sliced to four million dollars the amount proposed for appropriation this year for further land purchases for Point Reyes National Seashore.

This is just enough money to complete purchase of 2,100 acres on which the federal government already has commenced condemnation proceedings.

The committee cut the land acquisition appropriation bill introduced by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) from $30.5 million to the four million figure.

A bill for $30.5 million for seashore land acquisition had also been introduced in the House by Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-First District).

A spokesman for the House committee said Kuchel agreed to the amendment cutting the appropriation figure because it is too late in the congressional session to get any larger appropriation through both houses.

Kuchel said he will attempt early next year to "obtain congressional approval for a realistically higher ceiling" on the appropriation so the project planned in the original bill can be carried out.

The 30.5 million dollars would have permitted acquisition of 11,850 additional acres at the seashore.

San Rafael Contractor Missing In Bay

The Coast Guard searched fruitlessly today for a San Rafael contractor whose 26-foot cabin cruiser was found "going around in circles" in San Pablo Bay near the entrance to Petaluma Creek.

Mrs. Louis A. Yuvan of 20 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, called the Coast Guard at 1:05 a.m. to report that her husband had left Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor at 6 p.m. yesterday and was due back at 9 p.m. He was alone on the boat.

Yuvan's boat, "Y's Gal," was found by the Coast Guard at 8:35 a.m.

But at noon, two Coast Guard helicopters and a 40-foot cruiser were still searching the area for Yuvan.

Mrs. Yuvan said her husband suffered a severe sprain of his left ankle a week ago when he fell in the garage at their home, and he had been limping all week.

She expressed fear he had stumbled and fallen from the boat.

Yuvan, 49, is a general contractor, who has lived in San Rafael for 16 years and longer in the county. He has a son, Lawrence, 18, and a daughter, Linda, 14, living at home, and another son, Louis A. Yuvan III, living in Kentfield.

LBJ Asks Soviet Atom War Caution

ARCO, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson sounded a new call today for Soviet cooperation to lessen the threat of nuclear war.

Then he expanded that to a general plea for peoples to work together, on the theme that the American goal is justice for man, whether at home or abroad.

"Violence is one face of failure," he said in asserting that "our foreign policy must always be an extension of our domestic policy."

America, the President said, must wear the same face in Denver and Des Moines, and in Moscow, Peking or Hanoi.

"We are a great and liberal and progressive democracy up to our frontiers," he said. "And we are the same beyond."

For his approach to Moscow on atomic affairs, Johnson chose as his site the national reactor testing station here. The scene for his broader application of principles was Denver, Colo. Both speeches were released in advance of delivery.

Taking off from Washington this morning, Johnson set out on his second consecutive wide-ranging weekend of personal appearances, with dates at Arco and Denver, and tonight at Pryor, Okla. He visited five northeastern states last weekend.

In the address prepared for Arco, Johnson said the United States and the Soviet Union face the common task of searching for every possible area of agreement to lessen the chances of nuclear war.

Johnson said that a full-scale nuclear exchange between the East and the West, whether caused "by design or by chance," would kill almost 300 million people.

He said U.S. objectives in Viet Nam do not threaten the vital interests of the Soviet Union or the territory of any of her allies and that the Soviets have a very large stake in the peace and security of Southeast Asia.

Johnson's speech was prepared for his visit to the national reactor testing station here as he moved into the second consecutive weekend of personal appearances. He visited five Northeastern states last weekend.

Later today he was scheduled to speak in Denver, Colo., and Pryor, Okla., in what the White House described as a nonpolitical trip.

At Arco, the President said progress in peaceful uses of atomic energy has "merely raised the curtain on a promising drama in a long journey to a better life."

"But there is another — and darker — side of the nuclear age that we cannot forget," he added.

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Another delay has arisen in dredging Saucelito Canal in Richardson Bay, planned since 1961.

Jesper C. Strandgaard, of Bala and Strandgaard, engineers for the assessment district being formed to finance the dredging project, said yesterday the Army Corps of Engineers told representatives of the district and county that the corps cannot hope to do the project before the fall of 1968.

Delay of the dredging may jeopardize plans by the city of Mill Valley to lease its small craft harbor to developer Paul Fisher and by Alcan-Marin to provide access from its apartments to the bay.

Strandgaard said persons close to the project had expected the delay, but that it was first made known at a meeting Wednesday at the Corps' district office in San Francisco.

Reason, he explained, was the realignment of the canal by the

Cicero March Is Deferred After Chicago Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — A civil rights march into Cicero, scene of racial violence 15 years ago, was deferred today after a conference reported reaching an agreement on open housing.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., one of the conferees, said: "To demonstrate our good faith, we will defer this march to Cicero. This does not mean we will cancel the march. It is postponed."

The Illinois National Guard had been called up for duty in Cicero Sunday.

The agreement reached at a summit conference of King and his aides, Mayor Richard J. Daley and city leaders covers the Chicago metropolitan area, King said.

The agreement calls for "a cessation of neighborhood demonstrations on the issue of open housing so long as the agreement is being carried out."

King called the agreement "one of the most significant programs ever conceived."

Ben. W. Heineman, conference chairman, said the agreement will "put Chicago in the

SHAKESPEARE VERSUS ROCK

Councilmen Convinced The Bard Not The Quietest Of Neighbors

Shakespeare is great, but not when it is played outdoors and you live next door.

That is the conclusion of two Ross town councilmen who visited the Edward R. Bunting home on Skyland Way—the deck of which practically constitutes a balcony to the Marin Art and Garden Center amphitheater—during Marin Shakespeare Festival plays this week.

Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli went at 10:15 last night, in time for some of the scenes of "Julius Caesar."

They came in loud and clear at the Buntings', he said—too loud and clear for anyone to carry on a conversation on the patio.

The Buntings set off renewal of a feud with the Shakespeare Festival by playing rock 'n' roll records on their hi-fi during the Aug. 13 production of "The Merchant of Venice." Angry Shakespeare lovers poured letters of complaint into the Independent-Journal.

Martinelli and McAndrew paid their calls as members of a town council committee seeking to solve numerous long-standing disputes with the Marin Art and Garden Center and seek a way to assure its role in the future of Ross after the annual fair moves to the Civic Center fairgrounds. The furore over Shakespeare vs. rock 'n' roll gave them another problem to solve.

"I wouldn't want to live next door to it," said Martinelli after hearing the last act of "Caesar" at the Buntings'. "I think they have a gripe."

Martinelli said the Buntings told him the 'rock 'n' roll on Aug. 13 was not played intentionally to disturb the theatergoers. "They had a party for the Little League kids," he reported. "The kids wanted to play Beatle records. I guess they have as much right to have

Puerto Rico Faith Danger Less

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Faith, weakening slightly and still veering more to the north, moved across the northern fringes of the Leeward Islands today on a course that lessened the chances of dangerous winds at Puerto Rico.

The storm, with top winds dropping from 100 to 90 miles an hour, was expected to pass over Anegada in the British Virgin Island chain today. This track would take the hurrican's eye 50 to 75 miles to the north of San Juan, Puerto Rican capital.

Bobby, Please Come On Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Deputy Mayor Robert Price of New York is back at his job after a European vacation, but he insists an ad placed in a Paris newspaper by Mayor John V. Lindsay had nothing to do with it.

The ad in the Paris edition of the Herald-Tribune read: "Dear Bobbie, please come home. Almost all is forgiven. John."

Hikers Face Six Boiling Days

DEATH VALLEY (AP) — Two Californians had six days of baking temperatures ahead of them—if they can stay on schedule in their attempt to walk the length of the hottest area in the nation.

Cliff McAdams, 36, and Gordon Ritzman, 32, set out yesterday on their first leg, but rangers said they did not know how far the men walked. The hikers' schedule is to walk 136 miles, surpassing the 102-mile performance of Frenchman Jean Pierre Marquant a month ago.

Rangers said the temperature yesterday reached 113 degrees, an average August high. McAdams and Ritzman said they plan to walk only in daylight.

Nixon Terms Long War Idea Great Danger

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today the Johnson administration has unnecessarily resigned itself to a long war in South Viet Nam.

He called this the "greatest danger" facing the United States in Southeast Asia during an interview on the "Today" show on the National Broadcasting Co.

"We need new tactics, new leadership new methods to shorten this war and to bring it to a conclusion without appeasement of the enemy," said Nixon, just back from a tour of the battlefront.

He said the war "must be prosecuted more vigorously so that the Communists will see that they can't gain on the battlefield. Further, we must make it dangerous for them to continue the war. Then, and only then, will they come to the table."

Nixon, who declined to discuss any hopes he may have for the 1968 Republican presidental nomination, praised GOP congressmen for supporting the President in Viet Nam.

Quake Hits Lisbon

Bloody Riots, Tear Gas Mar De Gaulle's Somaliland Trip

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (AP) — Police and troops fought angry crowds with clubs, tear gas and concussion grenades in a public square today, forcing visiting President Charles de Gaulle of France to cancel a scheduled speech there.

Blood flowed on both sides. The security forces emptied the square. But the crowd, yelling for independence from France, built up again, shouting abuse. Police and soldiers turned on the crowd savagely.

After the square was cleared, De Gaulle arrived and talked briefly in the territorial assembly hall adjoining the square. He told Somali officials in an oblique way that independence could be achieved.

"It is possible," he said, "that the day may come when, by regular democratic methods, the territorial assembly may express itself in a new direction, and if so, France will take account of this."

As De Gaulle spoke, traces of tear gas still hung in the square outside, where only a short time before the battle between troops and demonstrators had been fought.

Concussion and tear-gas grenades were tossed into the crowd, which included women and children.

In panic, the crowd fled. Several stumbled and were trampled underfoot by those charging up from behind. Several were wounded by explosions and left moaning on the pavement in the blistering sun.

A number of Africans, one with a foot blown off, tried to climb into an army ambulance, but troops hauled them out saying the vehicle was only for wounded soldiers.

It was the bloodiest outbreak yet in violence which began as soon as De Gaulle arrived yesterday for a visit to this last bit of French territory in Africa.

About 20 persons have been injured and at least one person killed during clashes between police, troops and demonstrators, and between rival political groups as the French president toured the city.

Djibouti was like a city under siege. The crowd shouted abuse at soldiers and police. Security forces held steady. Neither side advanced or retreated. Hundreds of troops were at action stations throughout the city.

A huge mob gathered around the body of a youth laid out on a litter in the main square of the African quarter. He had a head wound and it seemed he had been beaten to death.

Some Somalis said he had been killed by police. Others said he died in a clash between opposing African political parties.

Mobs of Africans with banners demanding immediate independence took over the native quarter of the city and forced a detour in the inspection route that De Gaulle had been scheduled to take.

De Gaulle went around the edge of the African sections and avoided the greatest concentrations of demonstrators. The tall, aloof president smiled and waved to the crowd and seemed to take no notice of the hostile elements.

De Gaulle arrived yesterday on the first leg of a 27,000-mile, 19-day trip around the world highlighted by a state visit to Cambodia where he is expected to join in criticism of U.S. policy in neighboring Viet Nam.

Judge Gardiner Rebels At Handling San Quentin Case

By ROSS DAVIS

A Marin Superior Court judge today rebelled at handling San Quentin Prison cases by jury trials, declaring they can just as well be handled by the California Adult Authority.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner dismissed escape charges against prison inmates Donald Wayne McDowell, Odell C. Haston and Lonnie E. Culver, on the technicality that they had not been brought to trial within the required 60 days.

Furthermore, he said, if he finds any other serious legal question in San Quentin cases brought before him, he will dismiss them.

"Frankly, I don't see any reason why the public should spend at least $25,000 in further trial and consideration of any appeal when the same result can be obtained by an administrative hearing held by the Adult Authority," declared the judge.

"It is not my privilege to make the decision about how one should proceed in this type of case. It primarily is the right of the district attorney and the Adult Authority, and I will honor their right in future cases even though I think all superior court judges think the Adult Authority should usually handle these matters themselves."

Judge Gardiner said the dismissal came on individual motions today from the defendants that they had not waived time and therefore should be brought to trial over 60 days after their indictment by the Marin County Grant Jury.

The judge said the delay came because another superior court judge, Joseph G. Wilson, felt Culver could not adequately represent himself and needed counsel.

Judge Gardiner said the Adult Authority has jurisdiction to impose penalties if the inmate is guilty, and can hold administrative hearings to determine when the accused might be eligible for parole. These powers, he said, can assure against miscarriage of justice whether the courts handle the case or not.

Exceptions, he said, are cases where the maximum terms of convicts are nearly expired and the Adult Authority, in acting on the case itself, would have little room for additional penalty.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales took an opposite stand. "I disagree strongly with Judge Gardiner's view," he said. "The law of our state requires that the warden of every state prison refer felony violations within the prison to the county authorities for prosecution.

"The necessity of this law in crimes of violence and escape is obvious. I have been advised by both prison officers and inmates that any cessation of prosecution for these types of offenses would jeopardize the lives of both prison inmates and staff personnel.

"In addition," he said, "it is the basic underlying concept of our entire administration of justice that a person accused of a criminal offense is presumed innocent until the contrary is proven beyond a reasonable doubt.

"This proof must be made by a court of law."

Judge Wilson said the law provides a trial within 60 days unless there is "good cause." He said the necessity of finding acceptable counsel for Culver was such cause.

Wilson, however, concurred with Judge Gardiner that most prison cases should be heard by the Adult Authority. He expressed hope that prison officials, Adult Authority members, the district attorney and judges, can meet to "work out effective guidelines which will prevent congestion of our courts with San Quentin trials."

"There's no question there's a lot of noise up there" from the plays just below, McAndrew said.

He said the volume at which the actors' lines came through in the Bunting home made it appear to him that a hi-fi set playing at normal volume would be disturbing to play-goers just below.

Charles J. Catania of Catania Sound in San Rafael made recordings at the Bunting home Wednesday night, to determine how many decibels "friends, Romans, countrymen" carried to the folks next door.

forefront of northern metropolitan areas that have worked to remove one of the most troublesome of racial problems."

A civil rights march last night drew little attention. Three weeks ago in the same neighborhood, one brought out white hecklers who stoned and screamed at the marchers.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

1:11 p.m., Marin City—Large grass fire swept within 24 feet of homes on Burgess Court; units from Sausalito assisted county firemen.

4:16 p.m., Tamalpais Valley—Grass fire, set by two 10-year-old boys playing with matches and paint thinner, burned two-thirds of an acre between South Morningsun and Tennessee Avenues, blistering siding of house at 359 Morningsun Avenue.

11:09 p.m., San Rafael—False alarm to Clark Street; check made of area.

TODAY:

7:53 a.m., Tiburon—Fire, cause unknown, burned two big holes in downstairs floor of vacant house being remodelled at 2155 Paradise Drive, damage estimated at $200.

Top Radio Editorial

Don B. Curran of Novato, vice president and general manager of KGO Radio, San Francisco, won a first prize at this weeks' San Francisco Press Club annual TV-radio awards dinner for the best editoriad aired over a Northern California radio or TV station. It was called "The Biggest Bill of All," and urged revision of California's constitution.

Ex-Marinite Granted Attorney In Chicago

A former Sausalitan, charged with embezzling $72,000 during one month he worked for a Chicago bank, has been granted a public defender because he has no money to hire an attorney.

What Robert Francis Krebs, 29-year-old insurance investor, did with the $72,000 he is accused of taking did not come out when he made his plea for a public defender to Judge Joseph Sam Perry in Federal Court in Chicago on Wednesday. Judge Perry assigned a public defender.

Krebs worked one month for the Bank of Chicago some time between last November and this July. He is accused of mulcting $72,000 during that month.

He fled to England, but surrendered to Scotland Yard in London on July 16 and was returned to Chicago to face the federal charge.

He told the court one reason for his surrender was that he wanted to see his wife, an airline stewardess, who he had not seen for eight months.

It was about 10 months ago—on Oct. 11 last year—that a fire broke out in the Krebs' duplex apartment at 48 Rodeo Avenue, Sausalito, doing damage estimated by Fire Chief Charles E. Masten at $21,000.

Neither Krebs nor his wife was at home. The cause of the fire appeared puzzling. An arson investigation was started.

Lt. Ted Zink of Sausalito police said the investigation established an incendiary bomb exploded in the apartment.

The following day Krebs, a gun collector, claimed that some had broken in and stolen between 40 and 50 Luger pistols from his collection. Zink said the fire and the reported theft are still under investigation.

Krebs is also wanted in San Francisco for auto theft, Zink reported.

Armed Services Committee Plans Reserve Callup Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee is considering legislation that would authorize President Johnson to call to active duty an estimated 60,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen not now attached to units, it was learned today.

Sources said the committee is expected to vote early next week on the proposal—described as the House's answer to a Senate amendment that would have given the President power to call up individual Reservists and Guardsmen with less than 24 months active duty.

The President had not asked for such authority.

The House rejected the Senate proposal—tied to the massive $58-billion defense money bill—by a vote of 378 to 3 yesterday Members then voted 381 to 1 for the appropriation bill and sent it back to the Senate.

Members and staff of the Armed Services Committee sharply criticized the Senate proposal today in a series of interviews, describing it as poorly thought out, hastily conceived and sloppily written.

Rivers described his committee's pending legislation as a "reserve forces bill of rights" and said it would spell out by law the makeup and administration of the Reserves and National Guard.

The bill was written by a subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Heibert, D-La., after months of hearings into the matter, Rivers said.

Although Rivers and other committee members refused to say more, a high committee source said a key provision of the Hebert bill "simply provides that any Reservist or Guardsman who is not attached to a unit and has not completed 24 months of active duty would be liable for active duty.

The President is currently empowered to call up to 1 million Reservists and Guardsmen for up to 24 months active duty by declaring a national emergency.

Attorney Frank M. Slatinshek of the Armed Service Committee said a key fault of the Senate proposal was that under it all Reservists and National Guardsmen who had not completed 24 months of active duty could be recalled, including those men who served six months active duty and 5½ years later with Reserve units.

TV, Tables Taken In Tiburon Theft

Theft of a television set, several marble tables and a few paintings from 1805 Mar West Street was reported to the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station yesterday.

Dorothy Stapleton said she discovered the theft when she moved in. She said the house, owned by T. Allen Kay of 332 Beach Road, Belvedere, had been unoccupied for a year.

Congressmen Going Home To Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political campaigning is beginning to interfere with congressional business as the House and Senate wind their respective ways toward an adjournement still weeks off.

Despite Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's contention that many members don't want to go home and discuss controversial issues with the voters, increasing numbers are going home—to campaign.

Many major issues remain before the two houses, however, and few congressional leaders anticipate adjournement much before mid-October.

For months many congressmen—especially the large batch of House freshmen—have been going home to campaign every weekend. Now they are beginning to extend their stays into the middle of the week as they step up the pace for remaining primaries and the Nov. 8 general election.

One quorum call Tuesday disclosed 76 House members not answering when their names were called. Some 52 members missed a key roll call on a possible Reserve callup Thursday.

And a mass exodus today was the major reason House leaders put off until next week the remainder of the debate on the administration's proposal to create a Cabinet-level department of transportation.

board of supervisors in 1964, when the board adopted the Richardson Bay Master Plan, it adopted an alignment different from that the Corps had studied. The Army Engineers had to seek new funds to study the new alignment. Before the new study could begin, however, the board of supervisors adopted still another alignment.

The Corps said Wednesday it would request new study funds in about a month, but the funds would not be available until early next year, Strandgaard reported. Study of the new alignment would take about six months.

Thus, in about July, 1967, the project could be adopted by the Corps. Funding and preparation of final plans and specifications would take about a year, the Corps estimated.

If dredging were started in July, 1968, the project could be completed that fall, Strandgaard said.

Cost of the project will not be known until the study is complete, but the dredging district is authorized to tax its members up to $400,000.

They Said Get License Number

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A policeman in suburban West Mifflin was sent to investigate an unidentified flying object reported near the local airport.

When he arrived he reported over the police radio that there was a flashing object in the sky.

"What should I do?" he asked the dispatcher.

"Get its license number," came the reply.

the scene reported. The battle involved about 800 men on each side.

"We called the air strikes in close because were in close contact with the enemy," 1st Division commander Maj. Gen. William E. Depuy told reporters. "We did not deliberately call this strike down on ourselves. It was an error of only 50 yards and, at 200 miles an hour, these things can happen and it did happen."

The planes involved were F100 Supersabres, the same model plane that bombed a village in the Mekong Delta two weeks ago with disastrous consequences for South Vietnamese civilians.

"It was not a happy battle for us," Deputy declared. He added the Air Force planes were not to blame for the mishap.

"Everything was on fire," said Pfc. William Sparks of Champaign, Ill. "I never saw anything like it. A guy in back of me had it (napalm) all over his back."

Saigon officials had no immediate comment on the napalm incident. It marked the first time U.S. troops had been burned by the jellied gasoline since Capt. William (Bill) Carpenter, the former Army "lonely end," called in a napalm strike on his surrounded company early this summer in the Central Highlands.

About 350 miles to the north of Phu Loi, U.S. Marines today smashed a fanatic Communist attack in Operation Prairie. First the Communists lobbed in mortars, then charged the leathernecks, hurling hand grenades and bulky but lethal satchel charges.

On the political front the Viet Cong marked the start of campaigning for South Viet Nam's Sept. 11 elections today with murderous attacks in Saigon and a number of villages. Americans in Saigon already had doubled their guards in expectation of the attacks.

Six terrorists disguised as South Vietnamese soldiers attacked a police station in Saigon, roaring up in a civilian car and opening up with a burst of gunfire that killed three South Vietnamese marines and wounded six other persons. U.S. Military Police broadcast an alarm for the terrorists' automobile.

A Viet Cong platoon attacked the villages of Dau Lau near the city of Hue earlier today and murdered three Vietnamese hamlet officials and wounded two villagers. The six-man government garrison fled.

Headlights Blind Driver, Two Hurt

Two teen-age girls were injured at 10:35 p.m. yesterday on Glenwood Avenue in Ross when the bright lights of an oncoming car blinded the driver of the car in which they were riding and their car went off the road.

Deborrah Lyn Forrest, 15, of 655 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, was treated at Marin General Hospital for an injury to her left leg. Sally Rezac, 16, of 616 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, was taken to the hospital with facial bruises but did not wait for treatment.

Richard A. Dondero of 16 Fern Lane, San Anselmo, was the driver of the car, Ross police said.

Fairfax Plan Group Needs To Ordinance

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night gave its approval to an amendment to the city zoning ordinance that would prohibit residential uses in commercial, limited commercial and industrial zones.

The council must take final action on the amendment.

The commission recommended approval of Charles J. Fraguero's application to reopen the vacant Mobil Station at Center and Sir Francis Drake Boulevards.

The application of Joe Lauricella for a conditional zoning permit to build a motel at 131 Mono Avenue was postponed to Sept. 29, and the commission also set Sept. 29 as the date for a public hearing on a rewritten subdivision ordinance which would require developers to put utilities underground.

federal and state governments would put up $450,000 each, the county, hospital district and private contributors, $150,000 each.

This gives a total of $1,350,000 for a job estimated at $1.4 million. Mitchell said the deficit of $50,000 is another matter that Mrs. Ibach plans to take up with her board.

The county has already put up its share, but half of it has been spent on architects' fees, Mitchell said.

Asst. county administrator Thomas F. Campanella said the State Bureau of Hospitals administers Short-Doyle Fund disbursement on a reimbursement basis, with the first payments not authorized until the job is about 20 per cent complete.

Progress payments to the contractor would have to be made by the county prior to that point, ranging from $200,000 to $400,000, county public works director Donald R. Frost declared.

Before a contract can be awarded, the auditor must certify that funds are available for the project.

County administrator Alan Bruce today said that Mitchell's concerns over several other funds, expressed in yesterday's letter, are legitimate. "And I share them."

Breathing Trouble

C. D. Cheadle, 41, of 211 Marin Street, San Rafael, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital where he was admitted yesterday after he had trouble breathing at his home. San Rafael firemen gave resuscitation at his home before he was taken to the hospital.

Funeral for Mrs. Mary Fisher of Penngrorve, mother of Allan Jules Fisher of Marinwood, will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma.

Mrs. Fisher, 55, died yesterday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness. She was born in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, and moved to Penngrorve from Canada 20 years ago. She was a member of the Penngrove Social Welfare Club.

She is survived by her husband, Anton Fisher of Penngrove, owner until recently of the Green Mill Inn in Penngrove; her son; a daughter, Margaret Ann Fisher of Seattle, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Burbidge of Edmonton and Mrs. Helen Milialo of Smokey Lake, Alberta; three brothers, Steve Ruznak of La Combe, Alberta; John Ruznak of Stroud, Ontario and George Ruznak of Smokey Lake, and two grandchildren.

Burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

Steering Fails, Marine Injured

A San Jose marine was injured when his southbound car skidded 400 feet and turned over several times on Highway 101 near the Marin City off-ramp at 5:15 a.m. today.

Pfc. Harding Sweet Jr., 22, was treated for right arm injuries at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital after emergency treatment at Marin General Hospital. He is stationed at Treasure Island.

The California Highway Patrol reported Sweet said his steering system failed as he tried to avoid another car.

TRADITION IN MODERN WAR

A Vietnamese Ranger sounded the charge on a traditional bugle as his comrades stormed from a U.S. helicopter yesterday toward a Viet Cong-held treeline in the background. The assault in the Mekong Delta earlier this week was in pursuit of a Viet Cong unit that earlier had overrun the outpost of Lau Ba Phuoc, 135 miles south of Saigon.

McNamara Says Reds Renew Fighting Spirit

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says that — despite heavy casualties and low morale—there are signs the Communists have rededicated themselves to fighting as hard as ever in Viet Nam.

The Pentagon chief made the statement yesterday at a joint news conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk held at the White House shortly after both participated in a cabinet meeting with President Johnson.

Rusk and McNamara appeared to differ somewhat in their interpretation of the Viet Nam situation, but the difference seemed to be more a matter of form than of substance.

Rusk told newsmen he knew of no new Communist decision on prosecuting the war. He said the problem was simply that there has been no decision by the Communists to make peace.

After Rusk made this point, McNamara said that, while no new political decision had been made to change Hanoi's 1960 declaration to take over South Viet Nam, there appeared to be a "clear decision as of today" to continue the war at a "high level of intensity."

One of the signs of renewed Communist determination, McNamara said, was increased Communist infiltration from North to South. Red forces are entering South Viet Nam at a rate of 5,000 men a month. This is triple the level in mid-1965 and six times the rate in 1964.

At the same time, he added, the U.S. war effort was inflicting heavy casualties, had thwarted a Communist monsoon season offensive and has eroded Communist morale to the point the Reds' defection rate had doubled.

U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam had caused a "very dramatic decline" in Communist petroleum supplies, he said.

The Allies have been killing Communists at the rate of 1,000 per week, McNamara reported, compared to 100 Americans and 200 South Vietnamese killed each week.

Moore Will Tell Of Juvenile Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Archie Moore, former light heavyweight boxing champion of the world, will tell the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee next week about his efforts to prevent juvenile delinquency.

Chairman Pearce Young, D-Napa, said Moore would be the first witness at the committee's hearing Aug. 30-31 in San Francisco.

Young said Moore "has developed an outstanding program to combat juvenile delinquency" in Vallejo.

Milk Brands Must Be Right

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — If a bottle is labeled golden guernsey but some of the milk inside came from other breeds of cows, it soon will have to say so on the label.

The state Department of Agriculture adopted regulations yesterday governing the use by milk distributors of brand names which contain the name of a breed of cattle. The regulations take effect Dec. 1.

The department said the regulation "will inform consumers more clearly as to the type of milk sold under dairy breed names."

Humphrey Marriage Saturday

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The stunning, blue-eyed blonde from a small town who turned down Robert Humphrey's first request for a date will marry the son of the vice president Saturday.

Miss Donna Erickson and her college sweetheart will be married at St. Olaf's Roman Catholic Church.

Donna, 21, and the handsome, dark-haired Robert, 22, met while they were students at Mankato State College but her interest in a beauty contest led to a turndown for her future fiance.

Miss Erickson had been Miss Hastings in 1963 and competed in the Miss Minnesota contest. She wanted to watch the televised Miss America pageant on the night Humphrey asked her to go out.

It was about a year after that before Humphrey asked for another date.

Grand Theft Arraignment For Crosses

Richard Cross, formerly of Corte Madera, and his wife Imgard Cross were arraigned yesterday in San Francisco on charges of stealing a total of $241,470 from Roos-Atkins and Shreve and Co., San Francisco.

Both were charged with grand theft, and a preliminary hearing in the court of Municipal Judge Albert Axelrod is set for Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Cross was the manager of the Roos-Atkins store from which $1,470 was stolen, and Mrs. Cross worked at the Shreve and Co. store from which $240,000 was taken last April.

The couple were arrested in the Canary Islands. An immigration hold has been placed on Mrs. Cross, a German citizen. Both are being held on $10,000 bail.

When asked by newsmen whether the caper was "worth it," Mrs. Cross answered "no."

YOU LIVE HERE—This is the first pitcure of the earth taken from a distance of 240,000 miles in the moon's vicinity by Lunar Orbiter I. Shadow separates night and day, with Antarctica in the south and the southern coast of the United States in the upper left. Cloud cover obscures the area.

Orbiter Snaps First Portrait Of Earth

HAMPTON, Va. (UPI) — America's Lunar Orbiter 1, having trouble photographing the moon from 31 miles away, yesterday transmitted an excellent picture of the earth taken from a distance of 240,000 miles.

The world's first view of itself from the vicinity of the moon showed the shadow separating night from day on this planet. It also depicts the packed lunar landscape in part.

It was taken Tuesday by Orbiter's medium resolution camera and transmitted yesterday to the Robledo de Chauela, Spain, receiving station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

The earth is viewed on the bright side with Antarctica in the southern portion, the east coast of South America on the left, the eastern coast of the United States in the upper left and southern Europe at the top towards the dark side. Because of the cloud cover none of these areas can be identified. The equator is about 1-3 of the way down from the top.

Several deep craters and rough terrain appear in the foreground of the lunar landscape. It is the eastern limb and backside of the moon about 96 degrees east longitude at Mare Smyth I.

Titan Explodes A Minute After Launch, Failure Cause Unknown

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) —A Titan 3C rocket loaded with eight military communications satellites exploded a minute after launch today, showering smoking debris over the Atlantic.

The huge, triple-barreled booster, making its fifth test flight erupted into a cloud of pink flame and smoke as two powerful solid propellant rockets thrust it about 10 miles into the sky.

At least half a dozen separate pieces rained into the Atlantic far offshore, trailing white smoke. The rocket lifted off its launch pad at 10 a.m. EDT after a flawless countdown. For the first minute the flight appeared perfect, with the Super Titan climbing into the sky atop a geyser-like column of smoke.

Then, about 40 seconds before the two 1.2-million-pound thrust solid rockets were scheduled to be jettisoned, the 124-foot tall vehicle blew up.

It was the first launch failure for the Titan 3C that is scheduled to start lofting the Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) for the Air Force in two or three years.

The trail of smoke that the Titan was leaving all the way back to the launch pad suddenly ended in a puff of orange flame that turned to a reddish cloud of smoke. About a dozen ribbons of white smoke followed the debris as it plunged toward the Atlantic.

The debris apparently fell far away from inhabited areas. Ten minutes after liftoff, a long trail of pinkish white smoke still drifted over the launch site.

The failure followed the successful launch yesterday of a Saturn 1 super rocket, even more powerful than the Titan 3C, which hurled an unmanned Apollo spaceship to a Pacific Ocean splashdown.

The Air Force said the cause of today's spectacular failure was not immediately known. An identical Titan 3C orbited seven other 100-pound communications satellites in June in a six-hour series of precision maneuvers that today's Titan was programmed to match.

First It's Frogs, Now Rat Jumping

So county fair officials here challenged their counterparts in Calaveras County to test frog against rat.

The kangaroo rat is a small, desert rodent with large legs, a long tail and the ability to jump long distances.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Mrs. W. is a high-strung woman with an irritable colon and a poorly functioning gallbladder. Fried foods or such edibles as corn, salads, apples or milk caused her abdominal discomfort, bloating, and nausea. The pains were shifting in nature and often were relieved by rest or a hot water bottle. X-rays showed that, although there were no stones, the gallbladder was not functioning properly. There was no evidence of stomach ulcers or cancer along the intestinal tract.

The gallbladder was blamed for the symptoms; but when diet and appropriate medications failed to give relief, surgery was advised. She lost her gallbladder which, while diseased, was not actually responsible for her discomfort.

THE IRRITABLE intestine was the real culprit. This disorder also may cause bloating, belching, indigestion, and nausea and in this respect resembles not only disturbances of the gall bladder but also ulcer. Food, fatigue, tension, and excitement aggravate the bowel and produces transient and shifting distress. This is in contrast to the pain of ulcer which is likely to be present before eating and is helped by taking food. Pain does not shift and is more constant just above and slightly to the right of the navel. Milk relieves ulcer pains but may aggravate those from the intestine.

Distress from a diseased gallbladder is likely to be more severe and colicky and tends to come and go. It is felt just below the ribs on the right side and frequently radiates directly into a corresponding area on the back. It also is aggravated by fried and fatty foods. Those with this background are better candidates for surgery, and more so if they have had one or two bouts of colic or acute inflammation. These diseased organs usually contain from one to 50 rocks. After surgery, the majority obtain complete relief. Obviously, Mrs. W. did not fall into this category.

HOWEVER, the situation is confusing when a diseased gallbladder or a peptic ulcer masquerades as an irritable colon. It is then necessary to eliminate the source of the trouble if the bowel symptoms are to be eased. Diet and medication relieve ulcer pain. The gall-bladder may respond to the same regimen; if not, operation is indicated.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CAUSES OF APPENDICITIS

J. D. writes: I thought that appendicitis was caused by indigestion, constipation, and overeating. Is this correct?

REPLY

No. The appendix becomes inflamed when the central passageway is obstructed or irritated. Indigestion is one of the early symptoms of appendicitis, followed by nausea, vomiting, and tenderness and pain in the right lower quadrant of the abdomen.

NERVES AND THE ARTERIES

O.O.K. writes: Does extreme nervousness in old age go hand in hand with hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Not necessarily, especially when the oldster has reasons to be emotionally upset or overly concerned about health. Water runs through a rusty pipe for many years and the same applies to blood passing through a narrowed artery.

Today's Health Hint — Be cheerful and outgoing.

Fugitive, Wife Not Cheered By High Bail

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Canada's most wanted fugitive and his wife talked and laughed as they sat in the jury box awaiting arraignment. But they were grim when bail was announced.

Justice Court Judge Delwin Potter set bail at $100,000 cash or $200,000 property for each defendant yesterday. Said their attorney, Harry Claiborne, outside of court:

"I'm damned unhappy about it."

Georges LeMay, shaved bald and 41, and his pert wife, Lise, 29, were arrested in Las Vegas last week.

Police said LeMay directed by walkie - talkie from across the street as his men bored through the floor of the vault of a Montreal bank in 1961 and looted safety deposit boxes of between $500,000 and $3 million.

LeMay was later arrested in Florida and put in the Dade County Jail. Sheriff T. A. Buchanan said LeMay bought his way out for $35,000.

The LeMays were arraigned on Florida fugitive warrants.

"We wish to tell the court that we will resist extradition and request time," said their attorney. The judge asked him if he wanted 90 days. Claiborne said 60 days would be enough.

"We have the right to a full and complete hearing before the governor before any extradition," he said.

14-Year-Old Booked

A 14-year-old Corte Madera boy was booked at juvenile hall on a charge of burglary, by Corte Madera police, yesterday after another boy, the same age and also from Corte Madera, admitted that he and the first boy stole a carton of cigarettes from Henry Walraven's house at 21 El Camino Drive Monday. The second boy was cited for the same crime.

13.3 Million Jews

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The new edition of the Israeli statistical yearbook reports that there were 13,250,000 Jews in the world at the end of 1964. Nearly 17 per cent resided in Israel.

Unions, Railroad Officials Agree On Pension Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad labor unions and major railroads have agreed on a proposal for a 7 per cent increase in pensions for retired railroad workers and for supplemental pensions for workers retiring since July 1.

The plan would require amendment of the Railroad Retirement Act. The necessary legislation was introduced yesterday by Rep. Torbert H. MacDonald, D-Mass., a member of the House Interstate Commerce Committee which will handle the bill.

These are major parts of the proposal as outlined in a joint railroad management-labor announcement:

1. A 7 per cent increase in annuities of workers already retired who did not get such an increase when Social Security payments were increased 7 per cent last year.

This rise would be financed by an increase of one-fourth of one percentage point in the pension tax now paid by both management and workers. On Jan. 1, the tax would be 8.6 per cent on earnings up to $550 a month.

2. Supplemental pension payments of $45 to $70 a month for retiring since July 1 and after reaching age 65. The amount of supplemental pension would vary according to years of service with a minimum of 25 years. The $70 too would go to those with 30 or more years of service.

The railroads would pay for the supplemental pensions through a tax amounting to 2 cents an hour for each workers.

The maximum pension under the present set-up is $220 a month.

Under the agreement, the supplemental pensions would expire after five years and the unions agreed not to press the matter meantime in collective bargaining. However, both sides agreed they would have further discussions after four years.

$145,000 Suit Filed In Accident Injuries

Leonard J. Ravani, 86 Berens Drive, Kentfield, yesterday filed a $145,000 damage suit against a Mill Valley man for injuries received in a two-car collision in San Francisco Nov. 12.

Ravani's Marin Superior Court suit alleges negligent driving by Robert L. Black, 27 Lomita Drive, resulted in a collision with the car Ravani was driving. Ravani suffered head, neck and back injuries.

Practice Bomb Dropped On Lot

Richmond-San Rafael Bridge Traffic Soars

A new record for traffic crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge was reported today by the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

On Sunday, Aug. 7, the bridge toll gates tallied 19,723 vehicle crossings, the division reported. The previous record of 19,150 was set on Sunday, July 24.

OFFICE SHOOTING AFTERMATH

Mrs. Paula Burman, 22, lies dead in the corridor of the New York office where her father-in-law Lawrence Burman, 53, was shot to death today by James Rubertone, 61, (on the floor in the background), who then shot himself, dead. Rubertone was first assistant to Burman, executive director of the Master Truckman of America. Police said there was no apparent motive for the shootings. (AP Wirephoto)

El Dorado Election Case For Bagley

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, San Rafael attorney, will be in El Dorado County Superior Court for the next week or two, involved in a legal wrangle over a contested supervisorial election.

Bagley is one of two attorneys representing South Lake Tahoe Mayor Jerry Martin, who won the post of supervisor for El Dorado County's district 5 in June.

Tommy Stewart, who lost to Martin, is contesting the election on grounds of election irregularities.

Bagley said the problem arose because the board of supervisors redistricted the county about two weeks before the close of registration. Since residents in the South Tahoe area do not have street numbers but only post office boxes, the county clerk found it difficult to determine which voters lived in which supervisorial district. A few may have voted in the wrong district.

Since Martin won by only 17 votes, Stewart contends the last minute redistricting could have changed the outcome.

Feather River Fire Threatens New Bridge

OROVILLE (AP) — A fire, whipped by 25 mile an hour winds, crackled over 4,000 acres and was out of control today in the Feather River area east of Oroville.

Fire fighters said the timber and brush fire had burned to within 100 yards of the new Bidwell Bar Bridge on the river. No other structure was threatened, they said.

An 800 - acre fire threatened several houses in the Bald Rock area and fire fighters worried that the two blazes might converge. The California Division of Forestry used pumpers to protect the homes.

Another 800-acre fire burned out of control 1½ miles south of Paradise, a small Butte County town near Oroville.

Suspect Caught After Another Mass Slaying

By THOMAS STEWART

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Five persons were killed and two wounded early today when, police said, a man whose girl friend had left him entered her mother's home with a rifle and began firing.

After leaving dead and dying in nearly every room of the six-room apartment of Mary McClease, the man walked out and drove off.

About four hours later, state police on the New Jersey Turnpike captured a man whom they later identified as the subject of a multi-state alarm issued in connection with the slayings.

Police said the alarm was for an Arthur Davis, but they identified the suspect as Willie J. Davis, 26, of New Haven, who has the nickname "Artie."

A loaded carbine and pistol were found in Davis' car. He was taken to turnpike patrol headquarters at New Brunswick, N.J., for questioning.

A woman, who had watched from her window as the killer left the apartment, said he wore a cowboy hat and seemed in no hurry to get away.

Moments later, she said, a boy who had survived the bloodbath ran from the apartment screaming "Somebody please help me! Please help me! They're all dead!"

Besides Mrs. McClease, 51, those slain were all friends of her family: Neil White, 55, of Dover, N.C.; Richard Leathers, 27, of New Haven; and Caroline Sykes, 24, and her son, Michael, 5, also of New Haven.

One of Mrs. McClease's daughters, Francyne, 14, suffered a stomach wound and was reported in critical condition. Troy Sykes, 4, son of Mrs. Sykes, was wounded in the chin but was reported in satisfactory condition.

The only persons in the apartment to come through the ordeal unscathed were one of Mrs. McClease's daughters, Leatrice McClure, 26, and Royal McClease, 12.

The world's widest bridge—1,147 feet across—is in Providence, R.I., says the Automobile Legal Association.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Teen-ager interests in Marin are many and varied, but certainly 17-year-old Lilli Sommer of Woodacre has one of the most unusual. She is keenly interested in Indians—and particularly the primitive Miwoks who were Marin County's early residents. The fascination that Indians hold for the teen-ager, however, is not to strange, since she plans to become an anthropologist. Tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine tells Lilli's story.

"The second most famous Golden Retriever in the country." That is the claim that Mrs. Jane Davison makes for Guide Dog's Monte. And she can back up that claim. For Monte is a dog with four careers going for him—all at once. He's a Guide Dog sire, a show ring champion, a watchdog and a pet-companion. And in all those activities, he has been a total success. Monte is the subject of a special feature in tomorrow's I-J. supplement.

Marinite Recites Plot For Murder

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A dapper ex - convict testified yesterday that painting contractor Normal Call offered him union official cut down y a shotgun blast on April 5.

Wallace Charleston, 36, of Tiburon said at Call's murder conspiracy trial that the defendant, accountant Carl M. Black and tavern owner Richard Rock of Mill Valley had discussed with him a "business proposition" which involved Wilson.

Charlston, dressed in a natty blue sport coat and blue slacks and shiny pointed shoes, said the offer was made on Feb. 17. He added he refused the proposal.

The prosecution witness said Rock first mentioned the proposition and then introduced him to Call and Black. He said Call told him Wilson was the intended victim and gave him an envelope full of $100 bills. Charleston said Call told him he would get the rest "when we read about it (Wilson's death)."

Charleston, a habitue of the city's tenderloin area, said he told a policeman about the incident but apparently little action was taken until after the Wilson assassination. He said that when he read about the slaying, he called the same officer identified as "Christianson," and told him: "Too bad we didn't put more into it. We could have saved a guy."

After the day's testimony, Superior Judge Norman Elkington recessed the trial until Monday.

Call is on trial on murder and conspiracy charges. Rock, Black, painting contractor Max Ward and Clyde Simmonds were faced with the same charges. Their trials will be conducted separately.

The state said the five men plotted Wilson's death because he knew a union welfare fund was being milked by embezzlement.

BART Gets Federal Grant For East Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District has won a $31.1 million federal construction grant for portions of the system between Oakland and southern Alameda County.

Maurice Shean, San Francisco's Washington lobbyist, was asked to determine whether the grant for the East Bay meant money would not be available for San Francisco's Davis Street subway station.

Mayor John F. Shelley and Chamber of Commerce president Cyril Magnin had planned to go to Washington to press for allocation of funds for the Davis Street station.

Under federal law only 12½ per cent of the funds for mass transit aid programs can be allocated to a single state. California is nearing its limit from the funds.

Rep. George Miller, D-Calif., wired the BART board of directors meeting yesterday that Robert Weaver, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, had approved the allocation for the East Bay.

Miller said the allocation will pay for half the construction of the system between 7th and 81st avenues in Oakland and between Alquire road and Halcyon drive in Hayward.

The federal money will also be used to relocate homeowners and businesses displaced by the system's right of way in these areas, Miller said.

Lumbering Dooms Coast Redwoods

SEQUOIA (AP) — At the present rate of lumbering, the chances of saving California's coastal redwoods are becoming slim.

This warning was given yesterday by Newton B. Drury, secretary of the Save the Redwoods League and a former director of the National Parks Service.

He spoke at the 50th anniversary observance of the National Park Service in Giant Forest in Sequoia National Park.

Drury said that of the original estimated two million acres of virgin redwood forest in coastal areas, less than 300,000 remain and they are being lumbered off at the rate of 10,000 a year.

He said the state park system has saved 50,000 acres and another 50,000 of state-owned land has been preserved.

Old Plane, $30 In Long Flight

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Ron Cantrell, 17, returned Thursday from a two-month, cross-country solo flight in a 20-year-old plane.

Ron left in his Taylorcraft, which he helped rebuild, in June for Clearwater, Fla. There he waited for his mother, Phyllis, who finished seventh in the women's air race, the Powder Puff Derby.

Ron made the round-trip with $200 for fuel and $30 worth of groceries. His plane was not equipped with special radio gear so he was restricted to fair weather flying.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Tourist-Filled Sausalito Inns Pointing To Signs Of Future

Just about any dining house in Sausalito is bound to have as many tourists as local patrons this time of the year—perhaps more. And the rest of the attendance, while not itinerant, is probably from nearby out of town points.

There's a good chance an up-county Marinite will feel outnumbered, and except for familiar scenery, in a strange city.

Still—we can't eat our cake and have it, too. There's a strong feeling that Marin's best interest lies in making it an attraction for visitors. Having facilities for conventions. Restaurants with huge banquet facilities. Festivals. Cultural affairs. In fact, most anything to call attention to the county's advantages — and bring in tourist dollars.

Mind you, I'm not saying this is bad. The county can do one of three things—go ahead, stand still or go backward. If it does the first it's bound to become more cosmopolitan or change in some other way. And standing still these days when all around things are going ahead is equivalent to going backward. So you might say the alternatives are reduced to two.

The point of all this is that it's the simplest thing in the world to experience now what may happen up-county later. Go to one of the Sausalito dineries. Any one.

AND THIS WEEK I'd recommend going to the Spinnaker. First of all, it's one of the best measuring sticks there is. And it's celebrating a sixth anniversary next Wednesday. Sixth? That just about makes it one of Marin's fixed assets.

A Friday or Saturday night is likely to mean something of a wait for a table, for the Spinnaker has become a most popular place in its six years. But table waiting is commonplace these days. Fortunately the Spinnaker's cocktail lounge is large, comfortable, attractive and the outlook is scenic. The bar is long, where I'll venture to say you'll make a new acquaintance before you make the dining room. Probably one from out of town. And you'll both have something to talk about. That's the refreshing thing about meeting new people from other places.

Once inside the dining room, just about any table you get should be a good one, whether or not it's next to the window. There's so much expanse of glass, wherever you look is outside and over the water.

The food is genuinely good for a place that has this turnover. You won't be bothered by a lot of foreign names on the menu that you can't identify. Expensive? No more so than you'd expect in any dinery of this distinction.

All in all I'd say the experience is well worth while. In fact, it should be downright enjoyable.

VACATIONS will come to Franchini's Chateau next week and the next. This place will be closed after Sunday until Tuesday, Sept. 13, reopening day. Probably some work will be done here during the closure.

THE DO NUT KETTLE of Mill Valley (72 East Blithedale Avenue) has recently reopened under the new ownership of Veat Neal of Corta Madera. He is a baker and frycook of some experience.

Doughnuts, of course, give the place its name. But breakfasts are served from 6 a.m., and up to closing at 9 p.m. you can get sandwiches, hamburgers and cheeseburgers. Counter service. Closed Sundays.

IT'S STATE FAIR TIME starting next Wednesday, and should you be there and hungry between Aug. 31 and Sept. 11, Fresno restauranteur Stanley Kooyumjian will be operating the Vineyard Inn in the Wine Building for his third year.

Specialty of this Armenian restaurant is shish kebab — naturally, but barbecued fillets of turkey breast and spaghetti dinners will be available — all served with a glass of California wine as part of the meal. Also sandwiches, a la carte plates and beefburgers. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

I AM SORRY to report that the Brothers 2 Restaurant in the Northgate Shopping Center has been closed. Hopefully it may be reopened under another name and new ownership — still as a restaurant — for the convenience of shoppers.

TALENT HUNT. The San Rafael Jaycees are seeking talented amateur entertainers to compete for awards during the Autumn Festival "Marin Holiday" celebration Sept. 6 through 11th. Any amateur with musical, dancing or dramatic ability is elegible to compete. Winners will appear with recording favorites "We Five" and "Sing Out 66."

Applications available at the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, 824 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. Deadline for entries is Sept. 1.

HAVE YOU WONDERED how Frits Verbourg fixes the potatoes that way at Restaurant de L'Europe?

They are cubed, deep fried lightly, then sauteed in butter, parsley and shallots.

Frits, by the way, served as a frogman in the Dutch Navy, and he was also a commercial diver prying abalone loose from the rocky bottom off Catalina Island. Probably one reason why he's so interested in keeping up a good seafood menu. Otherwise imagine what might happen the next time he hits the deep. Even a fish has pride.

THERE ARE TIMES when Mexican fare is just about the most satisfying thing you can eat.

When you get in that frame of mind you should go to Ramona's and turn yourself loose on her gourmet spread — panuchos. Tortillas stuffed with black beans and served with sliced chicken and pork and sliced onions that have been marinated in pineapple vinegar—the whole garnished with pickles and jalapenos (peppers), and everything fits together like a crossword puzzle. Served with soup, salad, beverage and dessert — $3.50.

One of Marie Nava Franco's specialities and she is one of the best cooks Ramona has ever had. There'll be more of Maria's ideas on the menu, picked up on her recent trip back to Mexico.

Flamenco guitarist Gloria Jacobson is still popular Friday and Saturday nights from 6 to 9 p.m. Nice listening and she's very serious about her music.

If you're curious as to who did the portrait of Ramona on the south wall — it was Dick Lindauer of the Captain's Curries in San Anselmo, as talented with the brush as he is in his cooking artistry.

Young Shoplifters' Haul Confiscated

An arsenal accumulated by shoplifting was confiscated from two 11-year-old boys Wednesday by San Rafael police.

The weapons, taken from Stan's Sporting Goods store and MAC Disco department store, were two cap pistols, a hunting knife, and two arrows. The boys were lectured and turned over to their parents.

LBJ Presents Ike With $100 To College

Johnson said he had asked Eisenhower and some of his friends for lunch to discuss the college which plans to open in September 1967 with 300 students.

Ill-Starred Kroeger Gets His Wish—Dies At Folsom

FOLSOM (AP) — "I'd rather die than live in prison," Ralph Kroeger said when he was sentenced in 1963 to life behind bars for his part in a bizarre double murder.

In Folsom Prison last night the onetime hod carrier died of cancer, ending a life of 65 years that Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth said was spent under the spell of his domineering, remorseless wife, Iva.

The judge ruled that Iva conceived and motivated a plot to kill Mildred and Jay Arneson Quentin's gas chamber. That ruling later was reversed and she was resentenced to life in prison as a mental defect.

The Kroegers' victims were Mildred Arneson, 58, a former nurse, and her husband, Jay, 68, a retired Army major crippled with Parkinson's disease.

Mrs. Arneson disappeared from Santa Rosa Dec. 15, 1961, and her husband a month later. In August of 1962 their bodies were dug up from concrete - covered graves in the basement of the Kroegers' home in San Francisco.

Ralph Kroeger sat quietly during the trial, but Iva, often called "Grandma" Kroeger, had repeated temper tantrums. She tongue - lashed the judge and prosecutor frequently, shouted and pounded the table whenever she disagreed with testimony, and professed to be "the mother of God." Twice she had to be carried out of the courtroom. She was then 44.

The jury found the Kroegers guilty after 7 hours and 15 minutes of deliberation and recommended death sentences for both.

Kennels Expansion To Be Considered

Proposed expansion of the Marin Hills Kennels west of Fairfax will be considered Monday by Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

The meeting will begin at 10:45 a.m. at the Civic Center. The kennel application is the first item on the agenda.

Access To Point Reyes Problem To Be Tackled

Point Reyes National Seashore is no longer an unmarked expanse of forestland and coastline, which a short time ago drew only the casual hiker, beachcomber, and small groups of picnickers.

What was once a desolate wilderness, enjoyed only by a hardy few who sought isolation and solitude, is taking on the semblance of an organized park.

It is still not a Taylor Park, nor a Muir Woods, nor a Stinson Beach, but civilization is making inroads into the national park.

Information stations have been set up, maps are passed out to the hikers, and parking areas have been paved at various beaches.

With only a "trickle" of visitors thus far, Park Supt. Leslie P. Arnberger estimates that the total attendance at the Seashore this year may run as high as 300,000.

This month for the first time, guided tours and orientation talks were offered at the Bear Valley ranger headquarters and at Drake's Beach. A second entrance to Point Reyes Beach has been opened, and comfort stations soon will be built at both entrances.

All of this presages a sudden increase in attendance that is expected to skyrocket into the millions in a few years. All the problems that accompany congested recreation areas will soon be upon us with full force.

Highway access is not the least of these. Existing accesses are inadequate, to say the least.

The southern access is via the tortuous Shoreline Highway. Another is through Ross Valley over Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The northern routes are over Lucas Valley Road, Novato Boulevard and Point Reyes-Petaluma Road.

Development of an adequate east-west highway to connect 101 with Point Reyes or widening of Shoreline Highway, or both, will become increasingly urgent.

It behooves the county, state and federal governments to tackle the problems of access before park facilities themselves are developed all out of proportion to the roads that can feed the millions into and out of the Seashore area.

Democratic Voters Favoring Bobby Over President In 1968

WASHINGTON — The way things are now going for Bobby Kennedy, President Johnson cannot any longer take his own renomination for granted.

That is the meaning—nothing less—of the latest findings of the Gallup Poll which show:

That New York's Senator Kennedy is favored for the 1968 nomination by more Democratic voters than Mr. Johnson—40 per cent to 38 per cent.

THAT HE IS the decisive choice of independents — Kennedy, 38 per cent, to Johnson, 24 per cent.

That in a trial heat for President against Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan Kennedy emerges as an easy winner, 55 per cent to 39 per cent, while LBJ comes out a less certain winner, 48 per cent to 44 per cent.

And this is not all. Kennedy has been going up steadily for the last six months as the '68 nomination favorite of Democrats and independents alike: Kennedy up 13 per cent, Johnson down 14 per cent among Democrats: Kennedy up 11 per cent, Johnson down 6 per cent among independents. There is no visible evidence that this tide has run its course.

THIS SPECTACULAR surge to the top of his party's popularity by a junior senator who has held elective office for only 21 months is without precedent in modern political history. I can recall no incumbent President in 50 years who was so seriously challenged for renomination. Hoover had no trouble getting renominated in 1932 at the depth of the Depression and the few gestures which were made against Truman in 1948 were feeble and ineffectual.

Bobby's rise in the political scales has not been accidental. He has been working at it furiously—and skillfully.

He has steadily carved out for himself a series of political positions on big issues which set him apart from the Johnson administration to give himself visibility—but not so far apart as to alienate his party. He has been frequently critical of the President, but not so critical that he couldn't support Johnson if it seemed desirable. Here's the way he has done it:

KENNEDY HAS pleased the doves by urging a coalition government with the Viet Cong Communists as a way to induce a peace conference, but he has never said we should pull out.

He has blamed the administration for not pressing harder for a nuclear non-proliferation treaty with the Soviets, but never shown how to get the Russians to agree.

He has suggested that the President wasn't doing enough for the Alliance for Progress.

He has accused the President of not spending enough for the Great Society.

HIS TRIP TO AFRICA did not hurt him with Negroes in the U. S.

He offers himself as more liberal than the administration.

And in his latest Gallup rating he hurdles over LBJ.

But because Kennedy is in a position to be a formidable challenger to Johnson's renomination—this doesn't mean he will try.

There is time left for change. LBJ's party popularity may well rise again and Kennedy knows that the President is himself a formidable political strategist. Bobby would almost certainly be faced with this dilemma:

IT IS EASILY 3 to 1, if not higher, that an incumbent President can bring about his own renomination.

But if Bobby really could wrest the 1968 nomination from the President, he would split the Democratic Party so grievously that he would be risking his own defeat in the election.

THE HIGH PRICE OF TOO MUCH PRESSURE

Aggressive, ambitious "go-getters" are more susceptible to heart attacks than most other people.

A study of 3,524 men revealed that 85 per cent of the victims of heart failure in the 39 to 49 age bracket were preoccupied with "competitive activity, vocational deadlines and similar pressures."

The study, conducted by a team of doctors at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, was begun in 1960. Advertising men, airline pilots, space engineers, newspapermen and those with highly competitive personalities were more subject to fatal heart attacks than those who were relatively free of urgency in their outlook and jobs.

Persons who work under pressure must make a special effort always to be masters rather than slaves of their demanding occupations.

An effective way to maintain this essential mastery is to develop that inward sense of balance that keeps one ever conscious of eternal as well as human values—that always puts "first things first."

"Seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be yours as well." (Matthew 6:33)

Help me to distinguish essentials from non-essentials, O Savior, in all that I think, say and do.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Exchange Program Support Appreciated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Novato Community Ambassadors wish to express heartfelt thanks to the many members of the community who support our foreign exchange student programs.

As we look forward to the arrival of five new exchange students, we cannot forget the many individual services so generously rendered to last year's group of students.

We should like to take this opportunity to thank in particular Dr. John Kassenbrock, Dr. Merton Shelton, Dr. Frederick Newirth, Chapman's Shoes of Novato, Harley McAskill Men's Wear, House and Garden Florist, and the Novato High School faculty, all of whom gave special consideration to the students throughout the school year of 1965-66.

Additional thanks go to the Independent-Journal for its cooperation in publicizing our program and to those Novatans who so hospitably entertained the students in their homes.

The success of our program depends, to a great extent, upon the enthusiasm of the community, and we look forward to a continuation of this fine support during the coming year.

Unjust Viewpoints About Homestead

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: (Mrs.) Jean Montgomery's letter, August 16, 1966.

I feel Mr. Praszker was given very unjust interpretation of his statements made in regard to the housing project in Homestead Valley.

Minutes from the planning commission of Aug. 8 read as as follows:

"There was lengthy discussion of questions raised by the commission. Commissioner Praszker asked that if it were appropriate for low-income elderly, would it also be appropriate for low-income young? For high-income elderly? For private sponsored low-income elderly?

"Commissioner Praszker stated that it is the multiple residential use that is in question, and that it behooves the commission to examine the proposal carefully because others have been denied that which is similar to what is being proposed under the aegis of the federal government. He expressed great concern over the concentration of the poor in a project whereas Homestead Valley was now very integrated in regard to incomes, age groups, races, etc."

Mr. Praszker did not say "this would force Homestead to harbor a "poor house" as Mrs. Montgomery said in her letter.

In regard to the Master Plan for Older Adults there are a number of recommended plans for housing. The plans include low-cost rental housing, also moderate low income families, and also moderate income elderly. . . .

Perhaps housing for elderly was needed in the past. But do we need it now with subsidized rents?

The Homestead project will cost $440,000. At this price 200 units will cost $3,000,000 plus the maintenance. $3,000,000 plus would take care of much subsidized rent for low income families for many years to come.

A recent article in the I-J stated "that the Citizens Advisory Committee for Development of Marin criticized the Marin Housing Authority for not pushing the low-income housing lease program faster and sooner. Federally financed program leases private dwelling units and then subleases to low-income families at rent within their means."

This lease program I believe passed in 1965—this is now 1966 and soon 1967. By the time this program gets into operation it too will be obsolete.

At least with subsidized rentals you are still an individual and not part of a project of low-income families all in one basket.

'Campaign Promise,' It Sounds Like!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

President Johnson's intention to "take the profit out of poverty" by nationwide crackdown on "slum landlords" is to be applauded by all concerned. But his decision to appoint a commission of "distinguished Americans" to make the first "comprehensive review" of codes, zoning, taxation, and development standards "in more than two generations" has a ring of campaign promises before an election — which is less than 90 days away!

The truth cannot be ignored that many of the "distinguished Americans" our benevolent President considers appointing are the same landlords who "make a profit from poverty" by owning the property in which the poor barely exist! And President Johnson wants to crack down on the slum landlords!

There is a periodical, published and distributed throughout the world from Sydney (N.S.W.) Australia, titled "Good Government." Its motto is: "The proper revenue of a nation is the site rent of its land."

This means that land and property remains in private ownership while only the revenue from the site is continually used by the community to improve the surrounding neighborhood.

The cause of slums today is that the "slum landlord" lives in "lavish splendor" far-removed from the depressed area. The rents collected from the slums is used for the continued improvement of the "lavish splendor" of the landlord, and John Q. Public is confronted with steadily increasing taxation for Urban Renewal Projects in the slums.

A nationwide commission can never approach the solutions that an enlightened citizenry on the local level can. Each region must be an independent commission; no two regions would have the same problems.

If we are to find a cure for poverty, caused by excessive taxation and corruption, let us remove the shackles of slavery and injustice from the people!

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Clausen Popularity Runs High; Storer Faces Uphill Battle

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

CONGRESSMAN DON H. Clausen, the Republican incumbent from Crescent City, looks like a solid favorite to win re-election over his Democratic opponent, Supervisor Thomas T. Storer of Marin, in the First District.

We took a brief trek up the Redwood Empire, and everybody seems to recognize the name Clausen, whereas Storer is practically unknown except in Marin and Sonoma Counties.

In barber shops, bars, and on the streets, everybody seems to know Clausen, and the reaction is usually good.

HERE ARE some samples:

A lumber executive in Fort Bragg: Clausen seems to be doing the best he can. In general, he has been doing a good job for the lumber industry.

A barber: Clausen is okay. Storer and Drath? They never seem to come around here. If they hope to be elected, they better show up at our Paul Bunyan days and get acquainted Bartender in Del Norte: Clausen did a lot for us during the big floods. On the Redwood National Park issue, sure he's fence straddling. But we realize he's on the spot. Mr. Storer? Never heard of him.

A RESTAURANT OWNER at Noyo Harbor just south of Fort Bragg was an exception: Congressman Clausen has dilly-dallied on the Noyo Harbor improvements for years. He's done nothing for us.

But the same man hadn't heard of Tom Storer.

The concensus seems to be that Clausen is a cinch for re-election. But this is what's worrying the Republican party regulars working on Clausen's campaign.

Complained one party leader: "Everybody's too optimistic. They figure Clausen is a shoo-in and so no one wants to contribute too much. A $25 GOP contributor will, for example, chip in $5 to Clausen's campaign and save $20 for Reagan's drive.

Both Clausen and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael (opposed by Democrat James E. Pockrus) are odds-on favorites to win.

BUT STATE SEN. John F. (Jack) McCarthy, R-San Rafael, is up against a tough opponent (Assemblyman Pearce Young) and a tought district, caused by reapportionment. Marin County is his only stronghold. The other two counties, Napa and Solano, have a Democratic registration edge of 65-35. McCarthy may lose those counties, which means he will have to pile up a tremendous margin in Marin to offset the expected setbacks in the other two counties.

ED SLEVIN OF Terra Linda is directing McCarthy's campaign. Slevin, who has his main office in San Francisco, has opened a branch office in the Kaehler-Farrar Building in San Rafael, with Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax in charge.

A $125-PER-PLATE dinner gala will be held in honor of Gov. Edmund G. Brown on Wednesday night, Sept. 7, at Fairmont Hotel.

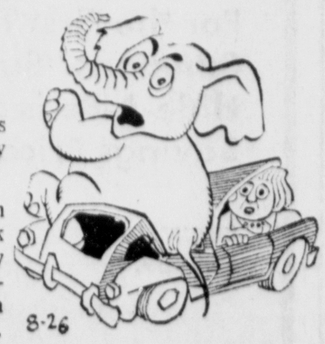
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A LADY DRIVER in Vancouver has genuine cause to wail about her streak of bad luck a few days ago. First, a circus elephant wandered out of his enclosure and sat down for a rest on top of the lady's new sedan. (It was red, the elephant's owner explained later, and this particular elephant just loved to sit on red sedans.) Anyhow, the car, though considerably squashed, was still able to navigate, and the lady headed it toward the nearest garage.

On the way she ran into a traffic jam caused by a crash. The cops and the ambulance arrived on the scene just about the time she did and immediately assumed that she was part of the accident. "No, no," she assured them. "I had no part in this crash. The reason my car is squashed is that an elephant just sat on it."

So they wrestled her into the ambulance and into an emergency ward to examine her for shock and head injuries.



A DISTINCTLY inebriated gentleman sat in the corner of a bar, crying his eyes out. "Ah, me," he sobbed. "I swapped my wife this afternoon for a bottle of Scotch." "And now," suggested a sympathetic bystander, "you're sorry you did it because you realize how much she means to you."

"No, no," protested the drunk vigorously. "I wish I had her back because I'm thirsty again."

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — It's incomprehensible, but the official records reveal that in 1964 and 1965 France got some $11 million in free military supplies and equipment under the foreign aid program, despite De Gaulle's numerous anti-U. S. hostilities.

Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, chairman of the Subcommittee on Foreign Aid Expenditures, brought this astonishing fact to light during the Senate's consideration of the new multi-billion dollar foreign aid authorization bill. He offered an amendment to bar such expenditures in the future, but it was blocked by Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

ALTHOUGH THE chairman of the prestigious Foreign Relations Committee stentoriously assailed foreign aid spending, he balked at Gruening's proposal to curb such outlays. Fulbright did not explain this contradiction.

During the discussion, Gruening pointed out that although military assistance to the prosperous NATO allies was supposed to have ended, tens of millions of dollars are still being spent for that.

"The most shocking example is France," he told the Senate. "In 1964 and 1965, at a time when France had the indisputable capability to pay for any military supplies it needed, some $11 million in such equipment was given France without charge. Information obtained from the Defense Department indicates that such aid to France did not formally come to an end until June 30, 1965.

IN A RECENT published study of De Gaulle, the statement is flatly made that Soviet documents reveal that he offered to send a Free French division to fight alongside the Russians on the Eastern Front. Stalin turned him down.

The book also asserts that De Gaulle's secret aim is to revive the pre-World War I Franco-Russian alliance. Says the author:

"It is quite obvious from the diplomatic documents published by the Soviet Foreign Ministry in 1959, that Russia was and is in the very center of De Gaulle's attention."

WE PREDICT — Indonesia will rejoin the United Nations within a month—in time to participate in the next meeting of the General Assembly that opens Sept. 20.

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien will play a leading role in directing Democratic strategy in this fall's crucial congressional election. The one-time close assistant of President Kennedy is now President Johnson's highly regarded top political adviser.

Undersecretary of State George Ball will publish a book after he leaves office shortly. It will deal with post-World War II problems and how they have and have not been dealt with.

There is nothing to those reports that Leonard Marks, head of the U. S. Information Agency, is quitting. A close personal friends of the President and his former radio-TV attorney, Marks will continue with USIA until after the 1968 election—at least.

THE 9TH INFANTRY Division, at Fort Riley, Kan., and the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, at Fort Carson, Colo., are earmarked for service in Viet Nam before the end of the year. Both divisions, nearing combat readiness, are largely made up of draftees.

First Year-Round Youth Plan To Be Launched In Marin City

The first professional year-round program for youths in southern Marin will be launched soon in Marin City — the Boys Club of Southern Marin.

The club will open to youths between the ages of 7 and 17 in mid-September. Its doors will open into a completely renovated maintenance building on Drake Avenue, and the club will open doors, it hopes, into the community to get the cooperation of home, school and church in turning out responsible citizens.

THIS IS THE GOAL of the new club's executive director, Harold I. Jackson, who reported for duty Aug. 13. The ex-Marine and former member of the New York Giants football squad was careful in an interview Monday to temper his optimism: "We are not going to do the job for parents, but with them. We will try to teach children how to win, how to lose, how to play with one another, how to live with one another."

The need for these valuable lessons, Jackson observed, is not limited to Marin City. Stressing that the club is "of Southern Marin," he said "there will be some aggressive recruiting" to attract members from outside the immediate community. "It's an open door," he said.

JACKSON, 34, was a Boys Club executive in San Diego for eight years. From January, 1965, until last month, when he was hired here, he served as assistant programs director for Boys Clubs of America at national headquarters in New York City.

He is a graduate of San Diego State College, where he majored in social sciences. He is a member of President Johnson's committee against smoking.

The club will have a game room, arts and crafts shop, meeting room, classroom and, eventually, an automotive shop, Jackson explained. Showers and a dressing room have been installed. A budget of $25,000 for the first year is being raised by contributions mostly from individuals and foundations.

Members will pay nominal dues, Jackson said, perhaps one dollar a year. Dues are the only charges; everything else is free, including materials. The club hopes to attract up to 500 members.

STAFF FOR THE club will be drawn principally from community and state colleges, Jackson said. He also hopes to hire a full-time program director.

Jackson emphasized that the club has an urgent need for donations of athletic, recreation and arts and crafts equipment and supplies, and up-to-date books. Previous appeals for such donations failed to meet the club's need for equipment and supplies, he noted.

Also needed are more volunteers to help in the $15,000 remodeling of the formerly decrepit building. Now, after generous donations of time and money by private citizens, contractors, foundations and unions, the club sports new wiring, windows, walls, paint and plumbing. But more volunteer workers are needed, said Jackson.

A PLASTER MODEL horse used by students at the Dias Ranch Art School was destroyed last weekend by a vandal, instructor Marty Pagan reported Tuesday. The horse was knocked off a window ledge by a blow from the outside, which also ripped a hole in a fiberglass window recently installed in the barn-studio.

Pagan appealed to the public to replace the horse, worth $20. "Hatred destroyed the horse," he said, "and I would like to let love replace it."

Mill Valley's new library boasts a copying machine. For 15 cents a sheet, you can copy book pages, documents — anything.

Except dollar bills.

Some Mill Valley merchants have been claiming that because 21 stores in the city are empty, the city is in poor economic health.

Would you believe 15?

This is the figure offered Monday by City Hall after its own business survey. In any event, City Hall noted, the city has about 330 commercial establishments. Cities throughout the nation have some empty stores these days, it seems.

ART BUCHWALD

Yes, Virginia, It's Sadly True: There Is No Herald Tribune

WASHINGTON — When the late President Kennedy cancelled his subscription to the New York Herald Tribune, I wrote a letter to my little friend, Virginia, assuring her that, although the paper wasn't read in the White House, it was still very much alive and would remain alive as long as there were Presidents in the White House to cancel their subscriptions to it.

The other day I received another letter from Virginia. It read:

"DEAR SIR:

"I am seven years old and all my friends tell me there is no New York Herald Tribune. I won't believe it's so until I read it in your column. Are they lying again?

"Your friend,
"VIRGINIA."

"Dear Virginia:

"Unfortunately, this time your friends are telling the truth. The reason there is no Trib is because it could exist no longer. No, Virginia, there is no Herald Tribune. You are too young to understand why it is no more and so am I.

"THE PUBLISHERS said they wanted to publish it but the unions wouldn't let them. The unions said they wanted to print it but the publishers wouldn't let them. The advertisers all insisted New York City needed a Herald Tribune, but many of them wouldn't advertise in it. The readers said the New York Herald Tribune was a great newspaper, but apparently there just weren't enough of them.

"Everyone loved the Herald Tribune, even the competitors, but that did not prevent it from dying. Alas, Virginia, how dreary New York will be without the Trib, as dreary as many other cities where newspapers have died and none has come to take their place.

"A NEWSPAPER is not like Santa Claus. You don't have to see Santa Claus to know he exists, but you have to see a newspaper. You have to touch it and feel it and read it and, what's even more, believe in it.

"A newspaper cannot be published on faith alone. It needs editors, reporters, printers, technicians, advertisers, and distributors, and readers, and if you can't have all of these, you can't have a paper, at least not for very long.

"NO HERALD TRIBUNE. It's true, Virginia. Those of us who worked for it thought it would live for a thousand, nay, ten thousand years, from now. We thought it would gladden the hearts of Virginias for generations to come. We didn't believe it would disappear until it happened, and some of us can't believe it still.

"I'm sorry to break the news to you in this way, but, although your friends were right, tell them not to gloat when a newspaper dies. A little of the truth, beauty, romance, love, faith, and fancy that the world is so short of dies with it.

"Sincerely,
"A.B."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

FUSSELMAN

In the morning paper on the 19th of this month, was a most illuminating article by Mel Wax, a by-line writer for that paper. He wrote from Portland, Oregon where he had been covering the 50th anniversary convention of the American Institute of Planning being held there. He wrote as follows: "The American city planner, judging from a random sampling of one thousand who have been engaged in a non-stop talkathon here during the past five days, is a tweedy, talky, badly frustrated citizen who knows very little about city planning—he doesn't know what kind of city he wants, how to plan for it, or how to translate plans into reality.

"HE TALKS a private language that he, alone understands; but he says it with so much conviction that an affluent society turns to him for help with increasing frequency, lavishing money, esteem, and even a modicum of power.

"He has been able, for example, to promote $300,000 from churches, government and private foundations for a two year study titled: 'The Optimum Environment with man as the Measure'—and he concedes he doesn't know what it means, how to attain it, or even if there is such a thing."

MR. WAX LISTED an impressive group of top-notch men in the profession such as C. David Loeks, director of the Twin Cities Metropolitan Planning Commission in St. Paul; John T. Howard, head of the department of city and regional planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; William R. Ewald Jr., a Washington, D.C., private consultant, who advises the President and a score of governors; William L. C. Wheaton, director of the Institute of Urban and Regional Development at the University of California in Berkeley; and Bertram M. Gross, professor of political science at Syracuse University.

These are some of the things he reported were said: "We are endulging in agnosticism and admitting we don't know"—"Probably the most outstanding thing we have learned is that we share a rather impressive body of ignorance"—"The Great Society isn't here and we don't know how to get it"—"The magic bullets of city planning have been as yet undiscovered."

AT ONE POINT in his article he said . . . "City planners (at the convention) flagellated themselves through long nights and early morning hours, talking cheerfully about their inadequacies and debating whether to turn next to systems approaches, matrixes, the computers, the hard or the soft sciences."

The new Marin County planning director told the supervisors, while they were bemused by the data processing problem, that planning will be calling for data processing. He lectured the board and told them they had a responsibility to provide services to all departments and that he was willing to relate his needs to other departments.

NOW, LET'S SEE about his authority in this respect. During the discussion of the department, a suggestion was made that the director, Arleigh Sewall, be given freedom to decide whether to have county personnel do the systems and programming or this be done by outside contract.

This was immediateiy termed, by the chairman, a top management decision and should be made by either the board or the administrator. Now, just where is the difference between "Director" of one department and "Director" of another?

IS THE BOARD sitting still while this new man lectures them and declares what he will do and what he will not do? In the I-J on Tuesday—page 21 — "Planner Wants Changes" followed by a story relating what he told the commission what they should be doing and what things they were doing that he should be doing.

This is the tail wagging the dog performance. He and his staff are supposed to serve the planning commission. Yet he brazenly tells them, as well as the board, what they each are obligated to do. He also told the commission what the computers could do--work out cost-benefits in relation to zoning and police zoning enforcement.

IT WAS ENCOURAGING to know that commissioner Praszker questioned the economy of this and that commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. said "cost-benefits" studies on uses of data processing should have priority.

For the sake of the property owner-taxpayers may this advice prevail. Read the first part of this column and compare it with this fellow's moves. He requires watching at all times. He has demonstrated that already.

Linda Bird Goes Job Hunting

NEW YORK (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, elder daughter of the President, has made a second trip to New York to discuss a possible job.

She talked Thursday with Anthony Mazzola, editor of Town and Country magazine. The subject, Mazzola said, was Miss Johnson's "future in the publishing field."

Medicare Going Smoothly Despite Paper Deluge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's medicare program, now nearly two months old, has generated a blizzard of paperwork but is operating with far fewer bugs than had been expected.

A nationwide Associated Press survey showed that predictions hospitals would be jammed to the point of chaos have proved groundless. Admissions have risen only about 3 per cent, latest figures disclosed, and in many cases occupancy is below capacity. Admissions under medicare have totaled about 700,000.

The chief complaints turned up in the survey centered on the forms required. In New York, Mt. Sinai Hospital hired 42 extra clerks to handle the paperwork.

The Social Security Administration replies that careful accounting is necessary where expenditure of tax money is involved.

Committee Suggests Scenic Highway Route

Members of a Marin County committee assigned to study a "national California coastal scenic redwood road and trails system" agreed at the Civic Center yesterday that the system's major scenic route in Marin should be generally inland from State Highway 1 and follow ridgetops as much as possible.

They also agreed they should take a field trip before coming to any final recommendation.

Committee chairman Margaret Azevedo set the trip for 10 a.m. Wednesday, starting at Point Reyes Station.

The scenic route would run from Monterey County north to the Oregon border. Gov. Edmund G. Brown appointed committees in each county involved to make recommendation on the routing.

Though the route will be primarily to give motorists a scenic route through coastal redwood groves, the Marin Committee agreed that the ridges in the county would provide and give broad views of the Pacific, and of Bolinas and Tomales bays.

The route generally approved by the committee would leave 101 at Richardson Bay, go to Muir Woods and down Franks Valley to Muir Beach. From there it would follow the top of Bolinas Ridge north to above Olema.

From Olema it would go to the ridge above Nicasio Lake, either following the shore of the lake or looping to the west, then continue north along the ridge east of Tomales Bay to the vicinity of the confluence of Keys and Walker creeks, southwest of Tomales. From there the road would skirt Tomales Bay, then turn inland to Franklin School Road, entering Sonoma County near Valley Ford.

Newspaper, Radio Officials Support Anti-Secrecy Bill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Representatives of the California Broadcasters Assn. and the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. gave qualified support yesterday to an Assembly bill to permit public access to government documents.

They spoke as witnesses at a hearing by the Assembly Committee on Government Organization.

Elton H. Rule, president of CBA, favored the general purpose of the bill but suggested certain sweeping exemptions be corrected.

He said personnel practices and departmental policies would remain sacrosanct under the bill. "We also question secrecy at the inter- and intro-agency levels," he added.

Rule did say the bill, sponsored by Assemblyman Milton Marks and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-Marin County, is a "major step in the right direction."

Mike Dorais, a representative of the publishers, recommended passage of the bill in its present broad form next session, but suggested further interim study of its exemptions.

Dorais supported one provision of the bill which would "provide an avenue to the public for judicial decisions where the citizens feel they have been deprived of the right to view documents."

San Anselmo School Registration Set

Registration of new pupils in the San Anselmo School District will be held each week day from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., starting Monday, Supt. Stephen Parodi announced today.

Registration will be at all schools. Parodi emphasized that it is only for those who have not previously attended San Anselmo schools. Classes will begin Sept. 12.

Girl Breaks Forearm In Fall From Bike

Melanie Jean Metzger, 12, of Los Alondros Court, Novato, suffered a broken left forearm about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday when she fell from her bicycle, Novato police reported.

Melanie said she and Michele Frazer of 8 Regent Court, Novato, were riding on Los Alondros Court when a large German Shepherd dog chased them. In attempting to avoid the dog, she fell from the bicycle, she said.

Racquet Club Theft

A. Harold Wagner, an instructor at the Racquet Club, 95 Racquet Club Drive, San Rafael, told police someone took a $40 transistor radio, a $175 camera and $10 in cash from the clubhouse office Wednesday afternoon. The money was taken from a cigarette machine which had been opened with a key.

Social Doings On For Sailing Women

ADMIRING THE ADAMS CUP, the perpetual trophy which has been awarded annually to the country's top woman skipper since 1925, are San Francisco Yacht Club committee members Mrs. Robert Potter, trophies, and Mrs. Kenneth Frost, publicity. Mrs. Frost is wearing the "Adams 1966" dress, designed especially to honor this year's championships by Contessa Angela Desideri of Tiburon.

Preparations for the Women's North American Sailing Championships to begin in Belvedere Sunday hosted by the San Francisco Yacht Club have involved much attention to hospitality as well as the numerous details a major yacht racing event demands.

The Women's Auxiliary committee which was activated over a year ago, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Colin Mason of Tiburon, has helped with plans for the cocktail party which SFYC Commodore and Mrs. Patrick Kirrane will give to honor the contestants at the Belvedere clubhouse Sunday. The Auxiliary will also give a cocktail and dinner party Wednesday. Mrs. Robert Barth of Belvedere, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Garrett Gast and William Healy of Belvedere and Joseph Purkey of Larkspur.

Eight crews coming from the eight racing districts of North and national yachting figures Mrs. Allegra Knapp Mertz, North American Yacht Racing Union Adams Cup chairman of Rye, New York; Alexander P. Gest, of New York, Arthur P. Nazro of Dallas, Tex., James Michael of Belvedere, and Robert E. Pegel of Lake Geneva, Wisc., will be complimented at the two large parties.

BOTH WATER and land transportation have been the concern of Mrs. Richard Vulte of Mill Valley. Yacht club members who have offered their boats for spectators, press and guests during the racing series include Paul Duggan, Douglas O'Hare and Dr. Benton Mathews of Belvedere; Dr. L. E. Custer, Henry J. Prien and Alexander McCormick of San Francisco; Earl W. Peak, Scott Gould and Robert Potter of Mill Valley. Peter A. Salz of San Francisco, Basil Knauth and SFYC Commodore Patrick Kirrane of Belvedere are among those who have volunteered their yachts for race committee work.

A fleet of cars will meet contestants and judges at the airport and take them to the Belvedere homes, assigned by Mrs. William Healy, housing chairman. Drivers will also be on duty during the championship series to see that skippers and crews are conveyed to the club

INSPECTING THE CAL-20, "Sweet Sherri," which is one of the yachts to be used by 24 yatchwomen coming from eight North American racing districts are Beryl Knauth, Mrs. Benton Mathews, SFYC women's auxiliary president, and Mrs. Harvey Rogers. Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Rogers, who raced the Cal-20 class yachts in a club elimination series will be watching the national sailing races next week with special interest. Marin Women

Traditional Center Luncheon Will Conclude Summer Series

Northgate Group and the Marin Art and Garden Center Founder and Affiliate Groups will band together Wednesday to present the traditional finale to the summer series of fashions luncheons under the trees at the Center in Ross.

Punch will be served at noon, followed by luncheon at 12:30 and the showing of fashions from San Francisco.

There is now a waiting list for the event which benefits the Marin Art and Garden Center. Co-sponsors for this last luncheon in the series are the Marin Conservation League, Marin Society of Artists, Marin Nature Group, Marin Music Chest, Marin Garden Club and the Ross Valley Players. Also the Decorations Guild, Pixie Parents, Art and Garden Unit of Junior Theatre of Marin, Garden Society of Marin and the Merry Wives of the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

MRS. DON DEVENDORF is the model for the Marin Society of Artists and Mrs. Robert R. Morrison is the general chairman and Mrs. Ray Coffman the model chairman. Mrs. Ellen Clarke Eilert will be on the runway for the Marin Music Chest and Mrs. Carl Riznik is their coordinator. Displaying fashions for the Ross Valley Players are Mrs. Richard O'Brien and Mrs. Calvin Ewing, with Mrs. Jackson Bennett as their chairman and Mrs. Ragnar Thaning, waitress chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Wagner and Mrs. Jackson Bennett will model for the Northgate Group. Chairmen for the Decorations Guild are Mrs. J. C. Smith and Mrs. Howard Hall and their models are Mrs. Gene Baumgarten and Mrs. Dion Ramsey Raisan.

Mrs. Robert Rosenblatt and Mrs. James Reese are showing fall fashions for the Pixie Parents and Mrs. Donald Olson and Mrs. Alfred Noble are chairmen. Mrs. Elmer Albritton will be on the runway for the Art and Garden Unit of Junior Theatre of Marin and Mrs. Robert Girard is their chairman.

THE GARDEN SOCIETY of Marin will have Mrs. Andre Claeys as their model with Mrs. G. C. Armstrong and Mrs. Fred Sloat as chairman. Promenading for the Marin Shakesepare Festival are Mrs. Curt Schwarz and Mrs. Gerald Knecht, with Mrs. Schwarz also serving as chairman and Mrs. Bruce Mack, waitress chairman.

A Nutrition Course Set In Novato

A nutrition course will be taught this fall at the Novato Evening High School, open to all persons interested in learning more about the relationship of food to health and how to use this knowledge in planning family meals.

The instructor is Mrs. Helen Ullrich, well known in the Bay Area as a nutrition specialist, and formerly with the University of California Agriculture Extension Service.

The nutrition course will be 10 weeks long, beginning Sept. 19. Class hours are 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. For more information call the Novato Adult Evening School.

Foster Home Needed

Jerry needs a home in Marin where he can stay until he is old enough to be on his own. He is Chinese-American, 14 years old, and an orphan. He is a quiet, shy child with excellent manners and appearance, the agency reports. If you can offer this youngster a long-term home, please call JACKIE in San Francisco. The agency will pay monthly support.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

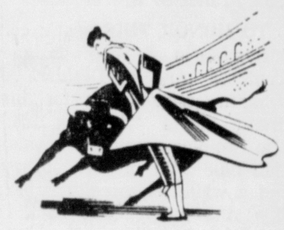
Late Summer Travel And Party Plans

By MOLLY MARIN

Leaving for Mexico in mid-September are Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Kilgore Jr. of Paradise Cove. They will stay with Dr. and Mrs. Luis Gomez-Correa in Pedregal, a suburb of Mexico City, during the International Congress of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Dr. Kilgore is a delegate to the congress. Their visit in Pedregal will renew a friendship of several years standing. The doctor from Mexico City and his family visited the Kilgores in Marin last spring. During their stay Mimi and Gene expect to visit Guadalajara, and will drive along the historic colonial tour trail of Mexico. They also expect to see Alma Reed, author of "Ancient Past of Mexico," in Mexico City. Mrs. Reed was in the Bay Area earlier this summer.

Hospitality for the medical delegates and their ladies includes a dinner to be held in the new anthropological museum in Mexico City, and a visit to the pyramids of Mexico. One event which has convention guests intrigued is a bullfight in Texcoco, which in addition to the large arena, boasts a small bullring. Delegates are invited to test their skills against small bulls. The Kilgores' invitation came with a notation that "We have a special little bull for Eugene" . . . Ole!

BELVEDERE VOLUNTEER firemen who will host the Firemen's Ball at San Francisco Yacht Club tonight begin the evening with a cocktail party, at the firemen's quarters in the Belvedere firehouse. The affair, which starts at 8 p.m., will be for firemen and their guests. Mike Shea, who is president of the volunteers' social organization, and Mrs. Shea will be on hand to welcome guests.



THREE YOUNG RELATIVES of Brig. Gen. (ret.) and Mrs. Frank J. Mc Sherry of Strawberry Point will be coming to Belvedere representing the New England area in the Women's North American Sailing Championships. The three in plenty of time for the races and to be available as needed. Robert A. Davies of Belvedere will have his vintage Rolls Royce ready. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin will both drive. Tom Martin is chairman of the event which will lead to possession of the Adams Cup, the symbol of the year's best women's sailing team. Howard McGill Jr. of Mill Valley and the Mesdames Paul N. Duggan, William Healy, W. T. Griswold, Rod Taft, O. R. Holm, W. B. Clum and W. A. Main of Belvedere; E. A. De Frees, Carleton White, Robert Boat, K. F. Tulp, Chris Gasparich and C. E. Keyes of Tiburon; Robert Potter of Mill Valley and Vera R. Treacy of San Francisco will drive.

TO HONOR THIS year's contest, Marin fashion designer Contessa Angela Desideri of Tiburon created an original dress, called "Adams 1966." The two-piece costume in yacht club blue with modified blouse and a white pique collar which dips to a middy V in back is embellished with a hand-embroidered San Francisco Yacht Club burgee in front.

Three days of intense racing are ahead for the eight crews, which will follow the traditional round-robin boat exchange system, using Cal-20 class yachts. Teams to be welcomed include those from New England, Long Island, New York, Central Eastern, Middle West, South Atlantic, California and Pacific International racing districts.

AT THE END of the series a trophy presentation ceremony will be held at the Belvedere clubhouse. The winner will take home the Adams Cup, which was first offered for "Proficiency in seamanship and sportsmanlike conduct on the part of yachtswomen" by Mrs. Charles Francis Adams of Boston in 1925. All participants will receive miniatures of the silver bowl and handsome scrapbooks to remind them of the first Adams Cup Championships ever held on San Francisco Bay.

Sound Off!

Students at Rockford College in Illinois have found an offbeat way to express their views on subjects from faculty quality to the war in Viet Nam. Students maintain a "Sounding Board," a five by eight feet bulletin board, for posting letters, which must be signed. Sometimes the subject matter is a blast at the quality of food on campus. Associate Dean of Students Milan J. Divina said one interesting letter was posted recently "with a piece of French toast attached to illustrate the writer's opinion."

Excellent Choice

An overblouse that reaches to the hipbone is an excellent choice for the woman endowed with a full bosom. Because it does not hug, it does not result in an unflattering, matronly look. Ones in coordinated fabrics and colors in styles most often chosen by the designers for their costumes, suits and two piece dresses do the trick.

To create a sleek line that suggests a trim tummy, choose a suit with a long jacket for the same reasons discussed in terms of the overblouse.

Telephoning Mother-In-Law Broadcasts Embarassing Details

DEAR HELEN:

Our daughter is married to a former neighbor, and his family still lives within phoning distance—everyday phoning, that is.

Evidently the son lets his mother know little details about their private lives. She calls me up and tells me the wildest things—and I'm sure she exaggerates, as my daughter, even when she visits us, gives no inkling that this is happening. They live in another state.

The trouble is, his mother can't keep her mouth shut. It's most embarrassing at a club meeting to hear her tell of the latest spat our kids had, or the exact description of how they are planning their family and when.

Of course she makes it sound as if our daughter is always a little stupid. She doesn't know this is going on, and truthfully I think the mother-in-law manufactures as much as she hears.

How can I put an end to these stories? —D.M.

DEAR D:

Why not send the young marrieds a fact sheet itemizing what has been repeated about them. Mention no names and do no editorializing. I think the blabbermouth will get the message, and shut off Mama's source of supply. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is to the woman who suggested "Lonely People Anonymous." There are such clubs in many cities. I work for one and they are wonderful. No matchmaking or anything like that, just a group of people who are lonely and want someone to sit and talk with. We also have free dance lessons, parties and outings a couple of times a week. These clubs are easy to organize, cooperatively.

The trouble is that most people seem to think they are merely dance studios where they must spend hundreds of dollars to join. Our membership is less than $2.00 a week, and we're an all-around club for the lonely single persons in our town.
—RECEPTIONIST, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

DEAR HELEN:

I am 70 years old. I never went beyond the seventh grade. Truancy: I was kicked out. But through the years I have made adjustments to life. I am alone, but I am not lonely. My friends are in the public library.

About these "lonely people's clubs" — frankly I run when some aging old bore comes my way. I can't stand trivia, repetitions of past glories or defeats. I have no use for the person who sits down and waits for death. I've tried circulating in my age group. It's no go.

Me, I am just beginning to live. The days are not long enough for me to accomplish the things I want to do. I welcome the kids that come to visit me. Although I've had no formal education, I derive a vicarious pleasure in graduating every time each of them graduates from school. You see, I've acquired expertise in math, English, and other subjects, through my love affair with the public library. I help young people with their studies. I admire them for their honest rebellion against the world we old buzzards are leaving them.

Alas, there are millions of college students, but few scholars. All the same, they keep me young.

Fortunately, my older friends and I live many miles apart. We write. Perhaps we see each other every few years. That's enough! Imagine living the last remaining years with some old crab, female or otherwise, who has nothing to say! Hell, that would be worse than penal servitude: intellectually degrading. This way, selfishly, I want to live in peaceful solitude. Down with "Lonely People Anonymous!" —S. S.

women, Penelope Hart, Ruth Andrews and Leslie Jackson, have sailed together since childhood at the family's summer home on Chapoquoit Island, Cape Cod. The McSherrys' daughter, Mrs. Dwight B. Bishop of Mill Valley, had hoped to go East and join the team of cousins for the qualifying races. Had Millicent Bishop been able to carry out her plans she might have returned to Marin as a finalist in the Adams Cup series to be hosted by San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere, Sunday, Sept. 1. The McSherrys have recently moved frorm Santa Barbara and hope to make Marin their permanent home.

A LARGE TABLE at the Marin Art and Garden Northgate Group luncheon Wednesday was shared by 26 San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild members to honor Mrs. Lyle Smith of Vallejo, who is going to Europe. Hostesses were Mesdames Gerald B. Flood and Ralph Holchester.

The final fashion luncheon of the series next week not only was already a sellout by midweek, but has a substantial waiting list, reports Northgate Group committee members.

WORKING out perfectly for Sausalito sculptor Mary Strebeigh are the plans she has been making for months to live and study in Switzerland for at least a year. On Sept. 5 she will fly to New York with her four children—the twins, Tim and Tom, 8; Katie, 10; and Peter, 6. There they will pick up their Norwegian elkhounds Tass and Efy and take the plane for Geneva.

They will live in the town of Hermance two blocks from Lake Geneva in the "Villa Domenica." Mary found the place on a trip to Europe last spring and took an option on it. It has a fireplace in every room and a stream running through the back garden that divides Switzerland from France.

Mary will study with Max Weber, professor of marble and stone, at his atelier in Geneva, and her children will attend the Ecole Internationale.

Frank Greene Takes Bride At Swedish Wedding Rite

Nuptials yesterday afternoon at Oscarskyrkan in Stockholm, Sweden, united in marriage Barbro Margaretha Swedenborg and Frank Perry Greene of Sausalito. The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Valdemar Swedenborg of Stockholm.

The Rev. Hans Akerheilm officiated at the double ring ceremony, for which the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her youngest sister, Ylva Swedenborg, was maid of honor. Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Greene of Sausalito, was John Donnell of Findley, Ohio, a Stanford Business School classmate.

Following a wedding trip taking them to Copenhagen, London and the Hawaiian islands of Maui and Kauai, the couple will live in Sausalito.

The bride was educated in Sweden and her husband is a graduate of Menlo School, Stanford University and Stanford Business School and is with Loomis, Sayles and Co., investment counselors in San Francisco.

Janis Estelle Steiner Is Wed At Garden Ceremony

Janis Estelle Steiner of Suisun, formerly of San Rafael, became the bride of Raymond Walter Castile of Benicia in a garden wedding Sunday at the home of her parent's, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Steiner of Suisun.

Rabbi Leo Trepp of Congregation Beth Sholom in Napa officiated. Janis chose a candlelight linen gown with floral appliques and detachable panel train.

Her sister, Mrs. James McCracken of San Luis Obispo, was matron of honor and the other attendants were Anne Carmona and Coleen Hill of San Rafael, Mrs. Gary Ponti of Benicia, bridesmaids and Lori Goodfield, junior bridesmaid, and Julie Goodfield, flower girl, cousins of the bride from San Rafael.

Lawrence Cochran of Benecia served as best man, and the ushers were Lawrence Steiner, cousin of the bride, from San Francisco, William Lowe, Gary Ponti and Ralph King, all of Benicia.

The couple left on a Lake Tahoe trip and will live in Mexico City, where both will attend the University of the Americas.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended Napa College. She is the granddaughter of Samuel Orack of San Rafael and Mrs. Henry J. Steiner of San Francisco.

Marin Artist Unashamed Of Doing Commercial Work

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Some serious painters believe that to work in commercial art is committing artistic suicide. They feel it prostitutes them as artists, robs them of painting time, takes too much out of them creatively, and causes a slickness to creep into their fine art work.

For those who think commercial art is the end of the artistic road, Fred Herschleb of Kentfield presents an interesting case. He is not only intrigued by both painting and commercial art, he is also achieving high levels in both fields.

As a painter, in six years he has racked up two best-in-show awards, seven firsts including one in the Marin Society of Artists' Annual, a Walnut Creek purchase award, plus many more. Yet he is deeply involved in the commercial field, for the past five years serving as executive art director for Honig-Cooper and Harrington Advertising in San Francisco.

Those painting awards are great but as Herschleb states it, "If you want to drive a car that's fairly up to date—and I don't mean anything fancy—it takes money; and commercial work is an excellent way for an artist to support himself."

For anyone who would leap to the conclusion that is mercenary talk, Herschleb has this lucid point to make:

"I don't equate high standards of living with low standards of art. Just because a man is living low and 'beat' doesn't mean he's producing great stuff. . . . The successful painter should feel perfectly free to surround himself with luxuries if he so elects and not be condemned for it."

What about the artist who chooses not to freeze, the one who elects to paint and work commercially as well? Can he achieve outstanding levels in either when he's split between the two?

Herschleb believes, "That depends on what's within a person. It's a question of inner drive and so much depends on plain ordinary talent. You have it or you don't. And it depends on how much time he's willing to devote."

He cautions, "You can't dabble in either and achieve outstanding work, but if you're willing to throw yourself into it you really can achieve in both."

It also depends on interest. "The interest has to come from within and you can't force it. When we were building our house, for example, my real interest was in the construction, not painting. I used to get guilt feelings about it and on rainy days I'd try to paint but it just wouldn't come off. . . . Only when the house was finished did the old painting drive return."

Even with the interest, combining commercial and fine art is not easy. It's taking on two jobs at once.

"Let's say the pay is pretty good and this covers a multitude of frustrations," Herschleb said. "But let's face it, commercial work is very shallow. . . . We all look forward to the time when we can shuck it and paint."

Herschleb finds little problem, though, in avoiding commercialism in his painting. "Among commercial artists we are alert to this. Probably one of the first critical judgments we level against our work is "that's too commercial' and we tear it up."

As an art director and designer, he does not "finish work." He concedes an illustrator might find it difficult to keep commercialism out of his painting. "It takes great restraint to turn your back on what you do every day in advertising art to dazzle the buyer."

To remain a purist in both, Herschleb simply separates the two. "They exist side by side. The creative process applies to both but the demands for each are so different that one can't encompass the other."

Even the fatigue factors are different. "Commercially you have to deal with personalities, often do two jobs at once, keep several clients happy and then stop and take on a new job. Coping with the tension is what fatigues a commercial artist.

"What fatigues a painter are the frustrations and exhilarations. The painter wants a successful painting and he sweats it out. He's not at all sure it will succeed."

For Herschleb, this is especially true in non-objective painting. "It's a challenge to get started, to develop it, to overcome the frustration of failure and to start again or make it over into a success. It takes a good deal out of you. . . .No, it puts a good deal into you."

That's what really keeps him going, and though he looks forward to the time when he can have it all this way, he says: "I'm not wasting away meanwhile and I don't regret not painting full time now because I'm still exploring. For now I put in what time I can and the real expression, the full development of themes will come later.

"And who knows?" he adds. "The world might be a little better for having waited. In 15 years I will have matured, my viewpoint will have changed, and the paintings I do then will be a good deal deeper and more meaningful."

SUCCESS IN TWO FIELDS — Fred Herschleb of Kentfield works at painting—in which he has produced many award winners. He is also successful in commercial art, and disagrees with those who feel an artist cannot do commercial work without impairing his artistic creativity.

Kentfield Hires Group To Plan Fire Station

Kentfield Fire District Commission last night hired the San Francisco architectural firm of Bushnell, Jessup, Murphy and Vanddeweghe to plan a new fire station at the widened intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and College Avenue. The firm's fee will be seven and one half per cent of the total cost of the new station, reported fire chief Kenneth Kamp.

The commission also voted to replace 600 feet of two-inch fire line on Elm Avenue with a six- or eight-inch line. Cost of the project must still be nogiated with Marin Municipal Water District, Kamp said.

Petaluman To Enter Plea On Five Counts

John Clayton Livesay, 44, of Petaluma was to enter plea in Marin Municipal Court late today to four counts of lewd and lascivious behavior with children, and a fifth of committing an unnatural sexual act. He was arraigned yesterday before Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Livesay, arrested yesterday by San Anselmo police, allegedly committed the lewd acts with children aged 7 to 9 last month in San Anselmo. He is free on $2,750 bail.

Sinatra-Virna Lisi Adventure In Rafael High-Sea Melodrama

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

The script, by Rod Serling, never lets the viewer down. It seems that deep-sea diver Frank Sinatra and his West Indian assistant, Errol John, are employed to go treasure hunting for a curious trio—former U-boat commander Alf Kjellin, Italian beauty Virna Lisi, and her unprincipled lover, Tony Franciosa. Sinatra doesn't find the treasure, but instead discovers a sunken Nazi submarine.

Now things begin to pick up. The fortune hungry adventurers hit upon a daring plan to salvage and recondition the sub and use her to heist nothing less than the Queen Mary. Their scheme involves a three-man party and split-second timing.

The suspense is heightened by fine performances all around.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Well, he's back again and in top form. It's Cary Grant, this time with Semantha Eggar, in his latest romantic comedy "Walk, Don't Run."

The tale starts with Grant playing a British business tycoon on a trip to Japan. He finds himself scrounging for a room due to the marathon housing shortage caused by the Olympics.

Pretty soon he gets a line on an apartment, but it turns out it's owned by a pretty young woman, Miss Eggar. Grant doesn't let the situation bother him, and settles in for a good night's sleep.

The show really gets on the road when Grant brings home Jim Hutton, a young American Olympics participant. Grant is faithful to his wife in Britain, but the situation between Miss Eggar and Hutton becomes increasingly frantic.

NORTHGATE AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

Moving to both theaters is "The Russians Are Coming The Russians Are Coming," a wild, delightful comedy spiced with delicious satire.

Behind that unlikely title is a study of misunderstanding occasioned by the running aground of a Russian submarine on an island off Massachusetts. The Russian commander sends a party ashore to get help. That's where the misunderstanding gets started.

Playing major roles are Alan Arkin (in a smashing screen debut), Brian Keith, Jonathan Winters, Theodore Bikel and Ben Blue.

101 DRIVE-IN

NOVATO THEATER

The hapless Don Knotts plays a typesetter on a smalltown newspaper who has dreams of his own byline and reportorial fame. So one day he leaves his inky little world and goes out trying to solve a 20-year-old double murder.

Co-featured is James Stewart and Maureen O'Hara in "The Rare Breed."

MOTOR MOVIES

Jerry Lewis' flock of fans have plenty of laughs in store when their boy gets going in "Three on a Couch," his latest production.

The story involves a commercial artist (Lewis) who wins a big prize that includes a year in Paris. Hs asks his fiancee, Janet Leigh, to marry him and come along. But she's a successful psychiatrist, and doesn't want to leave her patients—particularly three pretty girls with neurotic hatreds of men.

Lewis attempts to fix everything by romancing each of the girls in hopes that they will regain their interest in the opposite sex. The results are sheer buffoonery.

FAIRFAX THEATER

LARK THEATER

Also held over is the tender, poignant Swedish love drama "Dear John." Its beautifully explicit Scandinavian outlook on sex should not be mistaken for sensationalism or crudity.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Wood Sculpture

A showing of wood sculpture by the late Augie Dahl will be held Aug. 31 through Sept. 14 at the Patrick Brothers gallery, 2 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, as a memorial to the popular Fairfax artist who died a year ago.

Harvest Ball

Bolinas Fire Protection District will hold its annual Harvest Ball tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Bolinas Community Center. The ball helps finance the unpaid volunteer department.

Soviets Muzzle Bay Prof's Peace Speech

MOSCO W(UPI)—A California professor brought the American antiwar protest movement to Moscow today.

But his Soviet hosts quickly ended his press conference on the steps of Moscow University when he compared U.S. "aggression" in Viet Nam with "Russia's brutal intervention in Hungary."

He was Prof. Stephen Smale, a mathematics professor on leave from the University of California and a co-chairman of the Berkeley area Viet Nam Day Committee. He is here for the International Mathematician Congress meeting at Moscow University.

Smale was subpoened by the House Committee on Un-American Activities during its recent hearings on the Viet Nam protest movement. But he had already left the country when U. S. marshals attempted to serve the subpoena and did not appear before the committee.

Smale was given a gala banquet by North Vietnamese mathematicians at the University Tuesday night. North Vietnamese journalists asked him today for a statement and he agreed on condition that American newsmen be present.

In his statement and in answer to questions, Smale charged that President Johnson "is not seriously seeking to end the war in Viet Nam." He called U.S. military action there "horrible," expressed "admiration and sympathy" for the North Vietnamese people and said the "U.S. intervention is much more dangerous and brutal" than the Soviet intervention in Hungary in 1956.

Smale accused the Russians of "brutality" in Hungary and reported "discontent among intellectuals here" over the recent trial of anti-Soviet writers Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel.

"This is a sad state of affairs," he said. "They lack the means to express their discontent."

Minutes later, Soviet congress officials moved into tell Smale —who had not sought congress permission to hold the press conference—that he was wanted by congress Secretary-general V.G. Karmanov. They took him back into the university.

He spent 30 minutes closeted with congress officials, then left the university surrounded by interpreters and other congress workers who firmly blocked further questions from newsmen.

"He wants to talk about mathematics with us now," they said. Smale agreed, then appeared change his mind, but was cut off again by interpreters.

There was no sign he was in any danger. He was put in a Volga sedan and taken to the headquarters of Novosti, a Soviet news agency, apparently for an interview with Soviet newsmen. American newsmen were not admitted.

Senate Puts Off School Prayer Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action on the proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers in public schools was put off indefinitely today.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, chief sponsor of the amendment, originally had planned to call up the proposal for a floor showdown next Tuesday.

He told newsmen today he would not do this, in part because many of his supporters will be absent and in part because he is satisfied the Senate Judiciary Committee will now approve it.

He said he has enough votes for approval by the full committee and will seek a vote when the comittee meets next Wednesday.

Even if the committee approves it, the amendment could not come up on the floor until after the Senate debate on civil rights starting Sept. 6.

Its chances for action in the midst of an adjournment crush after the civil rights fight is ended would appear to be slim.

How to keep in the swim

...and keep your interests very much afloat

It's pretty obvious we're telling you that the I-J will keep you "up," keep your mind buoyant, keep you in the swim of affairs.

But maybe it's NOT so obvious that your newspaper can do so many things IN ONE ISSUE that no other medium of communication can approach.

Think about it: immediate news of the entire world . . . today's happenings for tonight's reading. We take you to Viet Nam, to Washington . . . to the Giants game wherever they play. To city hall, to the top food specials at your market. To the courts, to auto row; we run off today's stocks for you, show you the latest in fashions, and tell you what's on TV.

But we don't just flash the news; we report it, check on it, give you details that give you full perspective and thorough information. Sports, women's affairs, financial news, the latest in education, politics, science, health, menus, entertainment — the list is never-ending.

Look what it does for you: opens your mind; gives you a sense of belonging to your community; improves your judgment on public affairs. Yes, and through the ads, leads you to exciting buys and welcome savings.

Night after night, more than 40,000 Marin families plunge in to the Independent-Journal — and come up better informed. Great way to stay in the swim!

Three Astronauts Call Apollo Ready

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "It was a great flight and we're looking forward to flying on the vehicle ourselves on Apollo 1."

Speaking in a joint statement were the astronauts who may be circling the globe next Christmas in a three-man Apollo moonship.

The three are Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, who traveled into space in both the Mercury and Gemini programs; Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, America's first space walker, and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee.

The trio watched yesterday as a mammoth Saturn 1 rocket blaze into the sky on the start of a flight that apparently passed a significant milestone in the U.S. Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

The rocket, the nation's most powerful, hurled an unmanned Apollo moonship over a blistering suborbital course that carried it three- quarters of the way around the world to a safe parachute landing in the Pacific Ocean.

The flight was intended to qualify the spacecraft and the Saturn 1 for launching Grissom, White and Chaffee into earth orbit in December to start an all-out drive to land astronauts on the moon in 1968.

Before they go into space, two more two-man Gemini flights, in September and October will conclude that second-generation program.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that preliminary evaluation of data indicated no problems with the Saturn 1 and only a few minor ones with the spacecraft.

Meanwhile, the three astronauts will train with the expectation that they will be in orbit for up to 14 days in December.

Sources report NASA is aiming for a mid-December launching. On that schedule, Grissom, White and Chaffee would be in orbit on Christmas.

The spacecraft survived a searing dive yesterday back through the earth's atmosphere from a peak altitude of 706 miles. Its heat shield protected it from temperatures that ranged up to 2,700 degrees.

The spacecraft on launch weighed 28 tons, the heaviest ever sent into space by the United States, the 5½-ton cabin section in which astronauts will ride separated before re-entry.

It rode three large parachutes to a splashdown southeast of Wake Island in the Pacific after a 93-minute flight of nearly 18,000 miles — about 200 miles short of the intended target.

The main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier USS Hornet, required several hours to reach the scene for a pickup last night. Airplanes spotted the bobbing vehicle about 45 minutes after splashdown and dropped frogmen to secure it.

Bolinas School New Principal Hired: $12,900

Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees Wednesday hired Keith Oveson as principal of Bolinas School at an annual salary of $12,900.

Oveson replaced Peter Auer, who resigned June 30 to become a principal in San Diego county. Oveson is a former principal in the Hayward Unified School District.

Trustees also hired Marjorie Davey of Bolinas as half-time secretary to Oveson at $2,110.

The board changed its meeting times on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., and will hold the second meeting each month at Stinson Beach School instead of always meeting at Bolinas School.

Fourth Air Force Tops Money Saving

Air Defense Command's Fourth Air Force, headquartered at Hamilton Air Force Base, topped the command's units in saving money on radar station high power tubes during the last fiscal year.

Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, ADC commander, will present Maj. Gen. Carroll McColpin, Fourth Air Force commander, the "high power tube trophy" at the base Tuesday.

Storer Campaigns In Spanish Too

Marin County Supervisors Thomas T. Storer, Democratic candidate for Congress, delivered a campaign speech entirely in Spanish in Healdsburg Monday night.

Storer spoke to more than 200 members of Latinos Unidos at St. John's Church in Healdsburg. He cited incumbent Rep. Don H. Clausen's "dismal record of 64 bills introduced over a four-year period and none passed."

Educators, Students Slap Tuition Proposal

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—Educators and students have sharply criticized a proposal to begin charging California residents tuition to attend the state's colleges and universities.

University of California Vice President Charles J. Hitch told the Assembly subcommittee on higher education yesterday, "it would be premature, at this point, for California to commit itself to a change in the policy of free higher education which has served it so well for so long."

The subcommittee met on the University of California Santa Cruz campus to discuss a proposal made by Los Angeles Assemblyman John Collier that every resident student pay tuition equal to the cost of his education.

Collier suggests that each student have the choice of paying the tuition year by year or deferring payment until after graduation, then paying it within the next 20 years. He proposes that tuition for residents be computed to cover estimated state expenditures for which the state is not otherwise reimbursed.

Out-of-state students at the nine U.C. campuses are charged $980 a year.

A. Allan Post, state legislative analyst, testified that a $100 tuition fee would raise about $52 million a year if it were applied at all college levels.

The executive director of the state scholarship committee, Arthur S. Marmaduke, said that he received 22,000 applications a year for the 2,600 state scholarships of up to $1,000 that are offered.

Hitch contended that a tuition which would effectively reduce the load of the California taxpayer would make the University of California "far and away the most expensive public university in the country."

Hitch urged that any tuition policy enacted "not erect barriers to any significant number of students."

Clothing, Ring Stolen From Apartment

Rudy Martinez and James M. Bogioli told police Wednesday someone stole 12 sports shirts, two pairs of black slacks, one man's gold ring, two sweaters and $40 cash from the apartment they share at 125 Kerner Boulevard, San Rafael.

They said a neighbor told of seeing two blond men in the apartment at 10 p.m. Tuesday and that they drove away in a white Cadillac.

Schools Hike Tax Burdens

Rates Going Up Despite Rises In Assessment

Assessed valuation went up this fiscal year in all but one small school district in Marin County. The tax rate will go down in only nine of the county's 24 school districts.

In some districts, taxpayers are going to get a jolt. In West Marin School District, for instance, where voters were promised no increase in taxes at the time of a school construction bond issue last spring, the fiscal 1967 tax rate will be $2.92 per $100 assessed valuation, up 71 cents over last year.

Assessed valuation in the West Marin District went up 1.5 per cent.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who computed school district tax rates, said today the main reason for the increase in West Marin was a higher than expected interest rate on the bonds.

The rates for school districts are to be set by supervisors Tuesday. They will not in all cases conform to those projected by the districts in setting up their budgets.

Even in some districts having lower rates this year, the bill will go up because of increase in assessed valuations.

For example, Lagunitas School District will have a rate of $3.29, down 27 cents from last year, but assessed valuation in the district is up by 53.9 per cent.

The rates for other districts, including the tax for general funds, bond retirement and overrides, with the change from last year and the percentage change in assessed valuation, are:

ELEMENTARY DISTRICTS

Bolinas-Stinson Beach, $1.91, down nine cents, assessment up 24.5 per cent; Dixie, $3.95, up 82.5 cents, assessment up 13.6 per cent; Fairfax, $2.705, up 6.5 cents, assessment up 34 per cent;

Kentfield, $3.30, down 4.5 cents, assessments up 25.1 per cent; Laguna, $1.73, down 4 cents, assessment (Marin portion) up 7.6 per cent; Larkspur, $3.58, up 17.5 cents, assessment up 2.2 per cent;

Lincoln, $2.31, up $1.76, assessment (Marin portion) up 3.1 per cent; Mill Valley, $3.17, up 49 cents, assessment up 4.8 per ecnts; Nicasio, $1.575, down 5.5 cents, assessment up 12.8 per cent;

Point Reyes, 45.5 cents, down 14 cents, assessment down .03 of one per cent; Reed, $3.32, up 4.5 cents, assessment up 7.5 per cent; Ross, $3.055, down 5.5 cents, assessment up 27.8 per cent;

San Anselmo, $3.275, up 32 cents, assessment up 27.5 per cent; San Rafael, $3.19, up 83.5 cents, assessment up 8.9 per cent; Sausalito, $2.985, up 26 cents, assessment up 2.4 per cent;

Tomales Bay, $1.675, up 38 cents, assessment (Marin portion), up 3.2 per cent; Union, $1.395, up 25 cents, assessment (Marin porton) up 1.4 per cent.

OTHER DISTRICTS

Novato Unified, $5.355, up 8 cents, assessment up 15.4 per cent; San Rafael High School, $2.20, up 4.5 cents, assessment up 10.2 per cent; Tamalpais High School, $2.235, up 3 cents, assessment up 13.3 per cent; Tomales High, $1.36, down 10 cents, assessment (Marin portion), up 1.9 per cent; Marin Junior College District, 77 cents, down one-half cent, assessment up 12.6 per cent.

Mitchell did not have the Sonoma County portion of assessed valuation for the American Valley School District and has not yet been able to compute that tax rate.

Reason for the $1.76 jump in rate for the little Laguna District was mainly due to added override tax for junior high school education, Mitchell said.

Deliberate Fires Endanger 15 Homes In Marin City

Incendiarists are believed to have set a grass fire which was swept by 40 miles an hour winds towards Marin City yesterday, threatening 15 homes on Burgess Court.

County firemen and sheriff's deputies were today checking for the cause of the 50-acre fire fought for more than three hours by 12 units from the county, Tamalpais and Sausalito fire departments.

It was reported at 1:11 p.m. on a hill overlooking Marin City on the west side and quickly spread towards homes, fanned by a high wind.

Residents of three homes evacuated them as the flames crept closer. The fire was stopped 24 feet from their doors.

Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said the fire began just off a fire trail and he believed it was not started accidentally. He said his men saw a group of youths walking off, as they fought the fire.

"About five other fires suddenly began on the other side of the trail ahead of us. It was impossible for them to be caused by the main fire," he said.

"It was lucky our men were on the spot or it could have been a serious situation. If the wind hadn't dropped to about 10 miles an hour by the time the fire reached the houses, it would have swept right into the heart of Marin City."

Several volunteers from Marin City also helped fight the fire, which was the 10th in two weeks in the area. Bloom said he believed the majority were arson.

Nurses Protest Lack Follow-Up Of Raise

A group of nurses representing the professional performance committee at Marin General Hospital told the Independent-Journal yesterday they were disappointed at failure Tuesday of the hospital district board to grant them additional pay increases.

The board voted raises and fringe benefit increases to other employees recommended by the hospital's personnel committee. The committee recommended no raises for nurses, who received a salary increase of $70 on Aug. 1, raising starting salaries from $430 to $500 a month.

The nurses said the professional performance committee voted Wednesday to press for further negotiations with the hospital administration.

Several nurses protested that the board had implied that a $6 a day increase in most room rates on Aug. 1 was to pay for raises to nurses, yet more than half of the $328,000 from the increase will go for salary increases for non-nursing employees.

The nurses said their pay should be comparable to that received by members of other professions, such as teachers.

As an example of inequities they cited granting of a $15 increase in the starting salary for a salad girl, but only a $10 increase to nurses' aides. Starting pay for both was $330 a month before this week's increases.

Bolinas Group Sets Lagoon Plan Guides; More Access

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners last night adopted criteria on which the master plan for Bolinas Lagoon is to be based.

Key criteria adopted were: preserve the natural character and beauty of the lagoon; preserve a major wildlife refuge; ban sewage and debris in the lagoon; improve water flow to reduce siltation; discourage strip development; improve water access from the bay into the lagoon for boats, and provide additional beach parks.

The criteria were proposed by Norman T. Gilroy, Mill Valley architect who is drawing up the master plan. Commissioners took no action on his proposal that the "Town" of Bolinas be preserved and restored as a historical monument.

Adoption of the criteria, Gilroy said in a memo to the commissioners, "will tend to eliminate disagreement on the major issues during the hearings on the master plan itself."

The plan is to be unveiled Sept. 17 at a Harbor District meeting at 3 p.m. in Bolinas Community Center. Final Review and adoption is scheduled Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. in Stinson Beach Community Center.

Jones Guilty In Marin City 1964 Slaying

A Marn Superior Court jury at 12:30 .m. today found J. D. Jones, 30, guilty of second degree murder in the Oct. 20, 1964, hammer-slaying of his ex-wife, Mary L. Jones.

The jurors had the choices of finding Jones innocent, or guilty of first degree murder, second degree murder, or voluntary manslaughter. They deliberated 13 hours.

Second phase of the trial, to determine whether Jones was sane at time of the murder, was scheduled by substitute Judge Jordan L. Martinelli to begin at 10 a.m. Monday.

Jones had pleaded innocent, and innocent by reason of insanity.

The sanity hearing, which will center around testimony of psychiatrists, is expected to take three days.

Jones, of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, battered the victim to death in an argument over custody of their son, 3-year-old James Davis Jones Jr.

He was sent to Atascadero State Hospital March 29, 1965. He was returned to county jail last March 1 after being declared sane and able to stand trial.

San Anselmo Calls Special Meeting

Mayor John M. Reichmuth today called a special meeting of the San Anselmo Council for 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the city hall.

The meeting was called to discuss hiring a junior civil engineer and to introduce an ordinance for licensing and control of television cable companies.

Shots Spoil Cable TV; Reward Offer

Someone with a shotgun spoiled television reception last night for residents of Fairfax, Oak Manor and Sleepy Hollow.

At 3 p.m., reception went blurry on the monitoring set of Clear View Cables, Inc., at 759 Center Boulevard, Fairfax. The company provides cable TV service to the three communities.

Investigation disclosed shotgun pellets had knocked out one amplifier, damaged two others, and damaged electronic equipment at the service's antenna installation on Oak Manor Ridge, engineer Ronald Giorgi reported.

He said most of the service was restored to normal but one line was still giving trouble today.

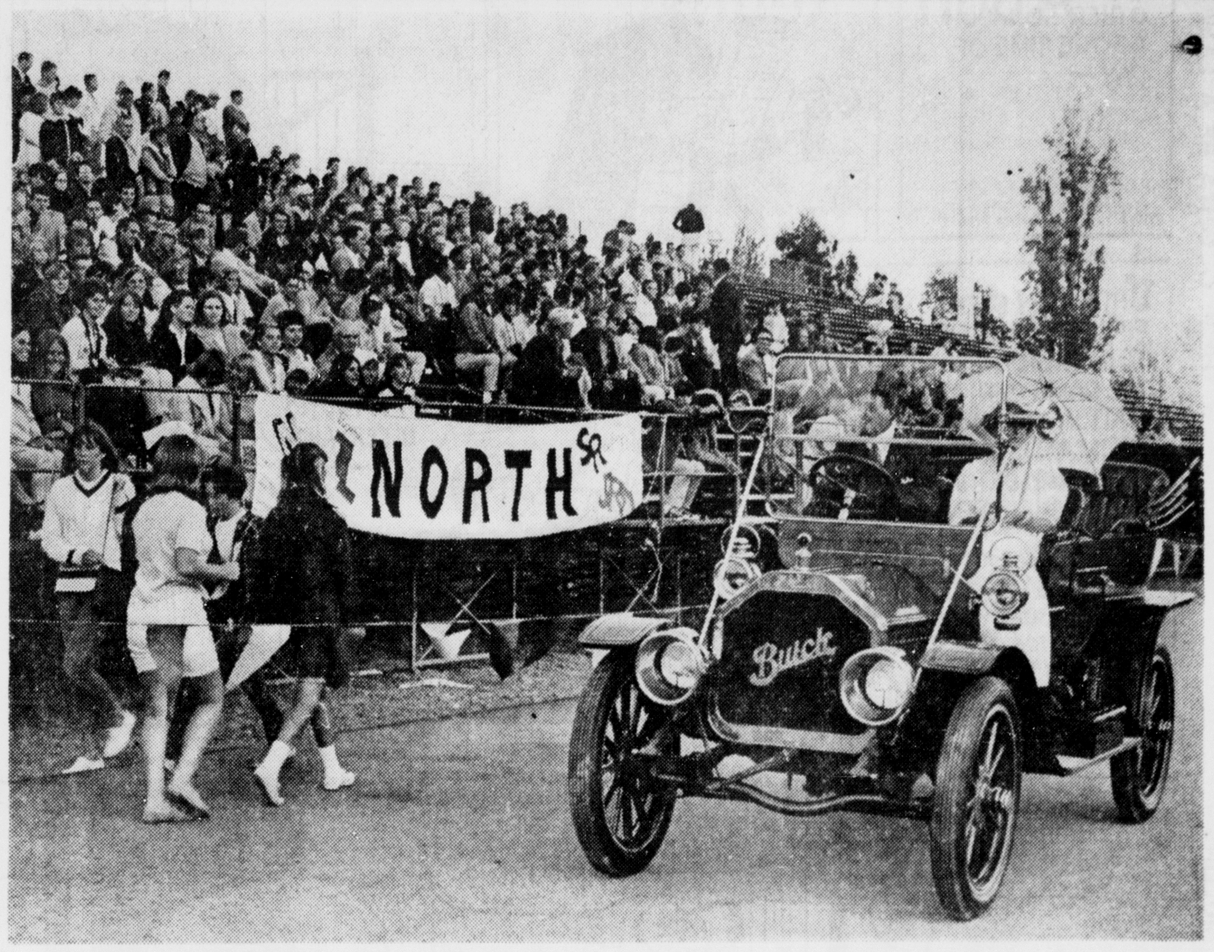
Clear View Cables, Inc., announced it would pay $100 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the shooter.

Kent School Bus Schedule

A bus schedule for pupils attending Adaline E. Kent School with opening of the term Sept. 12 was announced today by the Kentfield School District.

Pupils will be picked up in front of the Greenbrae School multi-purpose room twice, at 7:35 and 7:50 a.m. Other morning bus stops will be the Greenbrae Realty Office, La Cuesta and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, 8 a.m.; Manor Road on the south side of Drake, 8:05 a.m.; Bon Air Road, south side of Drake, 8:10 a.m. and the Greenbrae Realty Office, 8:15 a.m.

The first afternoon bus trip will leave Kent School at 3:26 p.m. for Greenbrae School. The second trip will leave at 3:45 p.m. for Greenbrae School and the Greenbrae Realty Office. A third trip will leave at 4 p.m. for Manor Road, Bon Air Road and the Greenbrae Realty Office.



GOING TO FOOTBALL GAME IN STYLE

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Priestley of Ross bring back the good ol' days as they drive around the football field in College of Marin Stadium last night in their antique Buick prior to the second annual Ross Valley Kiwanis Club All-Star football game. An estimated crowd of 8,600 watched the North Marin County stars whip the Southerners, 28-19. See game stories and pictures in the sports section. (Independent-Journal photo)

Woman Injured In Windy Crash

A Terra Linda woman was thrown from her small foreign sedan when winds flipped it on Highway 101 near the Waldo Tunnel at 6:50 p.m. yesterday.

Carmel R. Holland, 51, of 512 Las Colindas Road, was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital with multiple face, head, arm and leg cuts.

The northbound car spun 75 feet on its top, reported California Highway Patrolman S. E. Ellis.

Fouling Keeps Stafford Lake Closed To Fishing

Stafford Lake, which was closed to fishing yesterday, will remain closed at least until the first of the week when arrangements can be made on how the lake will be operated, Edward W. Adams, Novato parks and recreation director said today.

The lake was closed by the North Marin County Water District because human excretment was found along the banks. The Novato Parks and Recreation Department has operated the fishing at the lake this summer under an agreement with the water district.

Adams said the lake would remain closed until he could discuss the matter with Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the water district, who is scheduled to return Monday from vacation.

Bacteria tests run on the water have not shown any increase because of the contamination of the bank on the upper end of the lake, said William Melson, manager of the filtration plant at the lake.

Eight Year Old Cyclist Hurt

An 8-year-old Mill Valley boy was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for cuts and scrapes suffered when he was knocked off his bicycle by a car.

Ronald G. Moellen Jr. of 101 Valley Circle collided with a car driven by Mrs. Mabel A. McGowan, 65, of 15 Oxford Avenue at 5:10 p.m., Valley Circle police reported.

Mrs. McGowan told police the boy rode into the street from between parked cars. The car pushed Ronald and his bicycle 41 feet along the pavement, police said.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. There are no evening stars.

Dutch painter Franz Hals was born on this day in 1584.

On this day in history:

In 1934, Adolf Hitler said he wanted peace with France but also demanded the return of the Saar to Germany.

In 1948, Axis Sally was flown to the United States to face charges of espionage and treason for wartime and radio broadcasts for Germany.

A thought for the day—British novelist Aldous Huxley said: "There is no substitute for talent. Industry and all the virtues are of no avail."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Two Things To Do With Money: Spend It Or Put It In Bank

"One thing you can do with money is spend it," I remarked the other day. "Now you're talking," my wife interrupted.

"The other thing you can do is put it in the bank so that you can spend it at a better time," I continued. "Oh pooh," said my wife. "I suppose you have a bridge hand to prove that too."

Opening lead — ♠ J

East took the top spades and led a third spade. South played the nine, and West ruffed with the seven of hearts.

Declarer, a very charming woman, reached over and overruffed with dummy's nine of hearts.

That nine of hearts was like money, and the lady couldn't wait to spend it.

As you may have gathered, no good came of this play. Declarer led a trump to her hand and cashed the ten of spades, discarding dummy's low diamond.

Then she led a diamond and finessed with dummy's queen.

THRIFTY PLAY

If South were a man, preferably a thrifty married man, he would make the contract.

Instead of over-ruffing the third spade, declarer should throw the low diamond from dummy. Dummy's trump is not wasted; it is simply saved for another trick.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ Q 6
♦ A Q 5
♣ K J 6 5 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton but should deduct a point or so for the doubleton queen.

You would open the bidding if you had two little spades and a club suit headed by K Q J, but the actual hand is just a trifle too weak for an opening bid.

It's a group of extremely interesting new homes that aren't quite finished yet. We don't usually invite visitors while we're still working But things are in pretty good shape and we thought you might like to see them before the Grand Opening crowds hit. We're building six model homes in various sizes and shapes, and packing them with honest, up-to-date features. No gimmicks. One very exciting feature is our new approach to kitchens (we call it The Flower Room Kitchen) that we think is worth a visit all by itself.
Drop up.

JUST A LITTLE DIFFERENCE MAKES A DIFFERENCE!

A house should have bedrms, living area and bathrooms—and of course, this one does—but each floor plan should be unique—and this one is. Two front entries — to the living area and the large kitchen area. A large family room or extra bedroom separate from the living area. Enviable landscaping including fruit trees, bougainvillea - covered entry and sunny patio area. Delightfully decorated. Draperies and window coverings included. A Tiburon corner lot location.

PROJECT NO. 133
RED ROCK WAY SLIDE
LOS RANCHITOS
MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS, SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, until 10:00 A.M., September 12, 1966, for:

Construction of a drainage gallery and necessary appurtenances to be constructed in a slide area on Red Rock Way near San Rafael, California. The gallery will extend about 176 feet along Red Rock Way and into adjacent private property.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal Form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten per cent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or a Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guaranties not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Said proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 A.M. in Room No. 326, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above for receiving bids. Only the total amount of the bid will be read and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub-total and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will award the bid at 1:30 P.M., Sept. 13th, 1966, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

City of Larkspur, State of California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Larkspur will receive sealed bids at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Larkspur, California, on or before 10:00 A.M., on the 7th day of Sept., 1966, for the furnishing of all labor, materials, and services required for the following designated project:

DOHERTY DRIVE EXTENSION — PROJECT 29 (2) SS

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of City Clerk, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the City Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the City Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabulated and submitted to the City Council for consideration.

Busy Night For Thieves In Marin

Burglars looted cash drawers of Minto and Son's Shell Service Station, Kent and College avenues, Kentfield, making off with $79 cash, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Officers said entry was by breaking a window of a side door. A crowbar apparently was used for forcing the locked drawers.

John H. Tweedie, owner of Tweedie's General Store at 290 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, told officers someone pried a rear door and stole a small amount of cigarettes and candy.

Charles T. Chambers of 79 Oakridge Road, San Rafael, reported a tool box containing $400 worth of tools was taken from his locked car at 887 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, where he is moving.

Loss of a $1,500 mink stole from the home of Nancy J. Heredia, 5 Clotilda Court, Strawberry was also reported. Officers said no evidence of break-in was found.

Burglars took $66 cash from the office of Marconi Cove Marina on Shoreline Highway at Tomales Bay. Entry was by forcing a door, according to Sydney Escherback, manager.

A tricycle, a wagon, ball-point pens, milk and eggs were stolen from the Marin City Child Care Center at Manzanita School. Entry was by breaking the glass of a door.

Soldier Fights Policy, Is Sorry

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—Pfc. Gregory Lind Abel, 18, of Modesto, who refused to put on his uniform after criticizing U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, has been given a suspended sentence at a special court martial, a 4th Infantry Division spokesman said yesterday.

Abel was demoted to private, confined to six months hard labor, and fined two-thirds of his pay for six months. The sentence was suspended by his battalion commander, who reviewed the case.

The spokesman said Abel pleaded guilty of disobeying a direct order and making a disloyal statement. He later apologized for his criticism of the Viet Nam war.

The idea of a world congress and court to seek peace dates back to 1840 when the idea was proposed by William Ladd.

Homeowners Appeal Low Cost Housing

Thirty Homestead Valley home owners agreed Wednesday to appeal to the County Board of Supervisors the County Planning Commission's approval of 20 units of low-cost housing for the elderly in their neighborhood.

The County Housing Authority which hopes to build the units, already has filed an appeal with the supervisors, protesting the commission's reduction of the unmber of units from 30 to 20.

Murphy Doing Well After Throat Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., was reported recovering well today from surgery to remove a tumor-like growth from his vocal cords.

The senator spent about one hour in surgery yesterday at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. Spokesmen said it will be several days before it can be determined whether the growth was malignant.

Murphy, 64, will remain in the hospital five to seven days, said his son Dennis, and may return to Washington in 10 days.

Murphy was advised to remain silent for 48 hours, his son said, adding, "if that's possible."

American Movies Popular In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Films from Italy, France and the United States were the favoritss of the 3 million moviegoers in Communist Hungary, the Hungarian Fil History Institute reported Wednesday.

The results of a poll by the institute showed that the U.S. film "War and Peace" was the favorite for the eighth year running.

New Go-Go Girl, Minus Everything For Two Minutes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The North Beach had, for the briefest moment, an act that advanced to the limit the concept of topless entertainers—a stark naked blonde.

Virginia Kaye, 21, came out on stage at Varni's Roaring Twenties Thursday night and climbed aboard a frilly, velvet swing, crossed her legs, dropped her negligee and then. . .

Two policemen stopped her after a two-minute stint, saying "You're under arrest, young lady." They took her and club manager, Bryant Cohn, away.

She was booked on charges of indecent exposure, he on permitting an indecent display. Each was released on $330 bail.

Widow's Estate Is $27 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The estate of Mrs. Isadore Zellerback, widow of a former president of the Crown Zellerbach Corp., has been appraised at more than $27 million.

The figure filed in the San Francisco County clerk's office Thursday was $27,078,162.53.

Mrs. Zellerbach, who died Oct. 29 at 93, left half her estate to the Zellerbach Family Fund to be used for charitable purposes.

Mixed Fire Chief Reaction To Zucker Plan

Fire Chiefs had mixed reactions yesterday to a suggestion by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker that the subdivision ordinance be changed to require annexation of new subdivisions to fire protection districts.

If the subdivision were not adjacent to an existing district, the law might require creation of a new one, Zucker said.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom's first reaction to Zucker's idea was, "I don't think that would work."

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero felt too great restrictions would hamper development.

Zucker said the Upper Lucas Valley, now being subdivided, is not in a fire district and the residents there are concerned.

"I question if the county fire department is adequate for urban type services," Zucker said.

Bloom agreed his department was designed for grass and forest fire suppression.

Other chiefs at the meeting thought the suggestion might have merit and should be studied further.

Two-Car Crash Injures Two

Two San Rafael residents suffered face cuts in a two-car rear-end collision on Lucas Valley Road at Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Reported in good condition in Marin General Hospital today were Frank S. Miller, 45, of 14 Crestwood Drive and his passenger, Ronald Suhrke, 15, of 149 Humbolt Street.

Marin Property Assessed One Fifth

Property in Marin this year was assessed at 20.1 per cent of its full cash value, a drop of more than 2 per cent from last year's assessment ration of 22.4 per cent, the State Board of Equalization reported today.

The statewide average this year was 22.1 per cent, and the range was from 18 per cent in Lake County to 25 per cent in Alpine County.

North Overpowers South In All-Star Thriller

By RALPH CHATOIAN

After watching Dick Otis and John Dolinsek do their stuff last night, the 8,600 fans at College of Marin Stadium now know how Novato High School won the Marin Athletic League championship last year.

Otis, the powerful tailback, and Dolinsek, the southpaw quarterback, led the North to an overwhelming 28-19 triumph over the South in the second annual Ross Valley Kiwanis All-Star football game.

The Hornets' 1-2 punch was terrific. Otis, a one-man show, carried 31 times, picked up 135 yards and scored two touchdowns. And when Otis wasn't running, Dolinsek was doing some fine passing, completing 7 of 10 passes for 98 yards and a touchdown.

The game was billed to be a duel between Otis and Dean Lazzarini of the South, but it never got off the ground. Lazzarini was held to only 15 yards rushing, but he caught two passes for 26 yards and a touchdown.

The North put together a drive in the first quarter for the first touchdown of the game, covering 70 yards in 16 plays. Otis ended the drive by plunging over from four yards out, with right guard Bob Dobbs, Otis's Novato teammate, opening a big hole in the South line. The 185-pound Otis carried 10 times in the drive.

South came back with two touchdowns in the second quarter to lead at the half, 12-6. Lazzarini scored the first of the two touchdowns, on the first play of the period, hauling in a 15-yard pass from Bill Ingram. The second South TD was set up on a fumble. Fullback Rocky Shone bobbled Dolinsek's handoff and South linebacker John Bennett fell on the ball, giving the South first and 10 on the North 14.

After an off-sides penalty moved the ball back to the 19, Tam star Don Smith got the call from his halfback spot on three straight cross bucks over left tackle. He gained 10, 5 and 4, bulling over for the score on the third gainer.

The second half was all North, with three touchdowns on offense, and coming up with a safety, three interceptions and a recovered fumble on defense.

With only 3:44 gone in the second half, North struck. Dolinsek hitting Shone with a 16-yard pass. Shone, the San Rafael High School star, caught the

An Artistic, Financial Success; Guessing Game On Crowd Number

THE ROSS VALLEY Kiwanis Club should stand and take a bow. Thank you, gentlemen. Now sit down —please. I've got the floor.

Their second annual North-South Marin high school football classic last night was just that—classical, both from artistic and financial standpoints.

On the field the boys put on a whale of a show—long TD plays, sharp blocking and tackling, fumbles and interceptions, etc. The only thing missing was a dog on the field.

ELSEWHERE, THE color and pageantry were overwhelming. Old fire trucks and young girls, antique cars, classic cars, bands, and a precision drill team lent considerable color to a fine evening. A heavy but high fog chilled the air briefly at the start, but the evening warmed up later on.

THE MOST important thing—the crowd—was there in goodly numbers, but I must confess I don't know how many. I asked around and got several different answers.

For example, Charles Monte, the game chairman enthused: "Close to 10,000." Then Kiwanis committeeman Jack Younger happened by and guessed "6,500" and game co-chairman Jack McGlynn killed a couple of hundred more people with his "6,300" estimate. Then, announcer Dave Scofield, the "Voice of the 49ers" whose play-calling last night was impeccable, per usual, said "the unofficial attendance is 8,700."

THERE YOU have four widely different opinions. I started counting heads but when I got up to "six thousand three hundred and fifty seven" some guy came by, tapped me on the shoulder, and asked me for a match. I lost count.

Kiwanians can find out the exact number by counting ticket stubs and I'll bet the figure is approximately 6,425.

ANYWAY, MONTE was bursting with pride. Although financial figures were not yet available, Monte, the friendly undertaker, figured they could net ". . . at least $3,000" for Kiwanis charity projects. Last year's game netted $1,500.

Between $3,500 and $4,000 was taken in at the gate—not counting heavy advance sales. Also, programs and concessions virtually sold out.

We'll try to get a financial rundown on expenses and profits in future editions.

KENTFIELD'S STADIUM was in its finest condition, the turf as green as a crap table and soft as an infant's posterior. The surrounding track has been surfaced, so the threat of early-season dust and late-season mud has been scratched. For which, thank heaven.

College of Marin's new $40,000 can has not yet been completed, so the throngs had to use the same

Big One Tonight: Giants Vs. Koufax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants open a three-game series with the Los Angeles Dodgers in Candlestick Park tonight hoping to break away from the pack toward the National League pennant.

The Giants, idle yesterday, got a free ride into first place as Philadelphia dropped Pittsburgh 4-1. (See story, page 42.) The loss put the Pirates one-half game out of the lead. The Dodgers are two games back.

Los Angeles will try to narrow the margin tonight by sending their biggest gun, Sandy Koufax, 20-7, against the Giants' right-hander Bob Bolin, 7-8.

Saturday will see Jaun Maricha, 18-5, in action against Don Drysdale, 9-13.

On Sunday the Giants' winningest pitcher, Gaylord Perry at 20-3, will meet Claude Osteen, 13-10.

But statistically, the Giants' three pitchers have a slight edge with a record of 45 wins against 16 losses. The Dodgers have 42 wins and 30 losses.

The Giants have a good record in Candlestick Park going for them, too, with 40 wins against 24 losses. Against Los Angeles, the Giants are 6-6 for the season.

The Giants have 35 games left this season, including six with Los Angeles and seven with Pittsburgh. A three-game sweep of this series would come in mighty handy for Herman Franks and his crew in the tight race for the pennant.

Hawken, Leach Trail In Cal Junior Golf

Don Hawken of San Rafael and Ray Leach of Novato were among the leaders in the California State North-South Junior Golf Championships today at Merced Golf and Country Club.

Hawken is four strokes in back of leader Lon Hinkle of Santee, San Diego County, Hinkle with a three-round score of 217 and Hawken at 221. Leach is at 224.

The 16-year-old Hawken had rounds of 73 and 74 yesterday to go along with his opening round of 74 the day before. Leach carded 75 and 74 rounds to add to his opening 75.

The final round started this morning.

Interceptions, Novato Stars Too Much For The South

By ROB HARVEY

A pageant, some girls, touchdowns, fumbles, interceptions, long gainers, a party.

The second annual North-South All-Star football game was all that, last night at Kentfield Stadium, and it's too bad that both teams were not triumphant!

The game, sponsored by the Ross Valley Kiwanis and watched by some 8,600 fans, began with the introduction of the players, and ended with the North winning. In between it was packed with excitement . . . and until the fourth quarter, anticipation.

As it turned out, it was a matter of the North strong-men overpowering the Southerners, 28-19, but in the knowledgeable opinion of the participants, three North interceptions (one of paramount stature) were the factors which changed the entire complexion of the colorful fracas.

That Dick Otis, the hard-running former Novato tailback, could not be stopped, and quarterback John Dolinsek, also of Novato, could not be checked, contributed immensely to the North's success. But in all fairness to the squad coached by Harry Moore of Novato and Bob Muster of San Rafael, the victory was earmarked by the all-around team performance.

Novato, Marin County Athletic League champ last season, had nine players on the North roster, and the big bruisers from the other North side schools only served to make it harder on the South stars.

There were John Balzan and Ken Beerbower from San Rafael, and John Youngs from Novato and Dave Dukes from Terra Linda, who all seemed to be in on every play when it came to stopping a South drive; there were Novato's Tom Corder and San Rafael's Joe Cunningham, two glue-fingered ends, even in last night's cool weather; and of course there was Otis, who ripped through the South defense for a total of 135 yards, and Dolinsek, the southpaw signal caller who last night passed with pin-point accuracy and performed superbly; and we could go on and on.

The key interception came midway in the fourth quarter when—with the South in possession of the ball, trailing 21-12, and penetrating deep into North territory—quarterback Bill Ingram threw a pass to Honor Jackson but "Yankee" Al Heisler moved in to haul it down. Two plays before that, Jackson had blocked a North punt on the 40-yard line and Ken Blasingame picked it out of the air to give the South possession on the North 39.

Lest we be deceived by the final score, the South stars, coached by Willie Hector of Tamalpais and Al Endriss of Redwood, played a tremendous ball game, too.

During and after the post-game party at Marin Catholic High School, the coaches pointed to the three interceptions which helped bury the South.

Said Hector: "It was that interception in the fourth quarter that really hurt us; we just couldn't sustain a drive."

"We had men breaking free but we just didn't see them," Endriss chipped in.

But it was all smiles on both sides at the party, where cake and coffee were served and awards presented to the players. Also, a cheer was given to Redwood football coach Bob Troppman, originator of the game; members of the sponsoring Kiwanis, who worked so hard to make the game a success.

Dean Lazzarini, among others, performed well for the South stars. Nonetheless, if we were to pick any one player on the South squad who was outstanding, we would select Don Smith, the gutty little halfback from Tamalpais High who disdainfully crashed through the North bruisers for chunks of yardage time and again.

Twenty or thirty days from now, many of our onetime prep gridders will enroll in various institutions of higher education in quest of stardom in the collegiate ranks; they will undoubtedly always remember the game they played in, last night.

Meanwhile, the 1966 Marin Athletic League season, which gets underway Sept. 16, will be in swing by then; and we'll get our first look at the seniors who will play in next year's All-Star clash.

NORTH'S 28-19 WIN IN ALL-STAR CLASH

pass on the left flat, headed for the corner, and barely made it inside the red flag on the sideline marker. John Young's kick gave the Northerners a one-point advantage at 13-12.

Three plays later, Tom Sather fumbled for the South, and Novato's Dennis Hachmyer came up with the ball on the North 40. It only took the North five plays to score. After a 15-yard pass from Dolinsek to Shone and a nine-yard run by John Clifford moved the ball to the nine, Otis got the call and ripped through right tackle behind a big block by Youngs and scored standing up.

Then came the fourth quarter, and by now it was apparent the power of the North was too much for the speed of the South.

South was forced to punt from its own 19, but the snap from center Bill Pieper sailed far over the head of Ingram. By the time Ingram got the ball in the end zone, there was nowhere to go. Linebacker Hachmyer got hold of Ingram and was joined by a horde of blue-shirted Northerners, hanging up a safety on the scoreboard. It was now 21-12.

The North received the free kick but couldn't move any closer than the South 40. Dolinsek punted out, but two Tamalpais defensive ends got together for a grand play. Honor Jackson blocked the punt, and Ken Blasingame caught the ball before it had a chance to touch the ground. He ended up with the ball on the North 29 for a good run before being tackled.

But two plays later the South fans had nothing to cheer about, as quarterback Dane Durham came in for one pass play. There were no red shirts near the pass as the pattern was blown, either by the passer or receiver. Defensive halfback Al Heisler intercepted and the North again had the ball.

This time the North showed its speed, sending Clifford on a long pattern. After moving just past the midfield stripe, North quarterback Jay Widmer threw a perfect pass to Clifford on the left side and John, who had beaten the South secondary, romped in for another touchdown on a play that netted 49 yards.

South's final seven points were scored with no time showing on the clock. It was an all-or-nothing play that had speedster Len Pieri going long. Ingram threaded the needle between Joe Cunningham and Jim Paydo and hit the streaking Pieri who caught the ball on the 45 and ran to pay dirt. It was the longest play of the game, netting 82 yards. It took a little of the sting off for the South.

Fred Daniele and Jim Crisp, both of Terra Linda, were the other Northerners who intercepted second half passes, both thrown by Ingram.

It just wasn't Lazzarini's night. His two longest gains were called back because of penalties. In the second quarter, on a sweep around right end, he had a 29-yard run taken away, and in the fourth quarter he caught a 25-yard pass from Ingram, but the ball was brought back on that play too.

North outrushed the South 223 yard to 45 and overall racked up 371 yards to 183 for the South.

Sacramento Bows In Little League

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Ike Alonzo of West New York, N.J., and Mark Harding of Houston, Tex., pitched their teams to victory yesterday in the semifinals of the Little League World Series.

A crowd of 6,500 watched as Houston Eliminated Sacramento, Calif., and West New York bumped Osaka, Japan, by identical scores of 4-0. The winning teams will meet Saturday in the championship game.

Whitey Ford Okay After Operation

HOUSTON (AP) — Whitey Ford, New York Yankees veteran pitcher, was reported in good condition today after a shoulder operation his surgeon described as successful.

The left-hander, had gone on baseball's disabled list earlier in the week after complaining of cramps in his pitching arm.

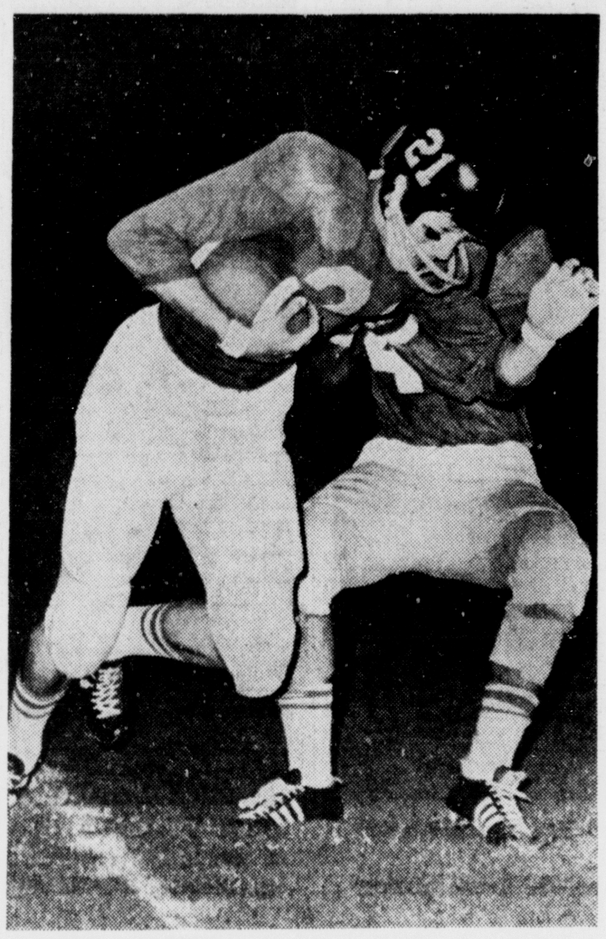
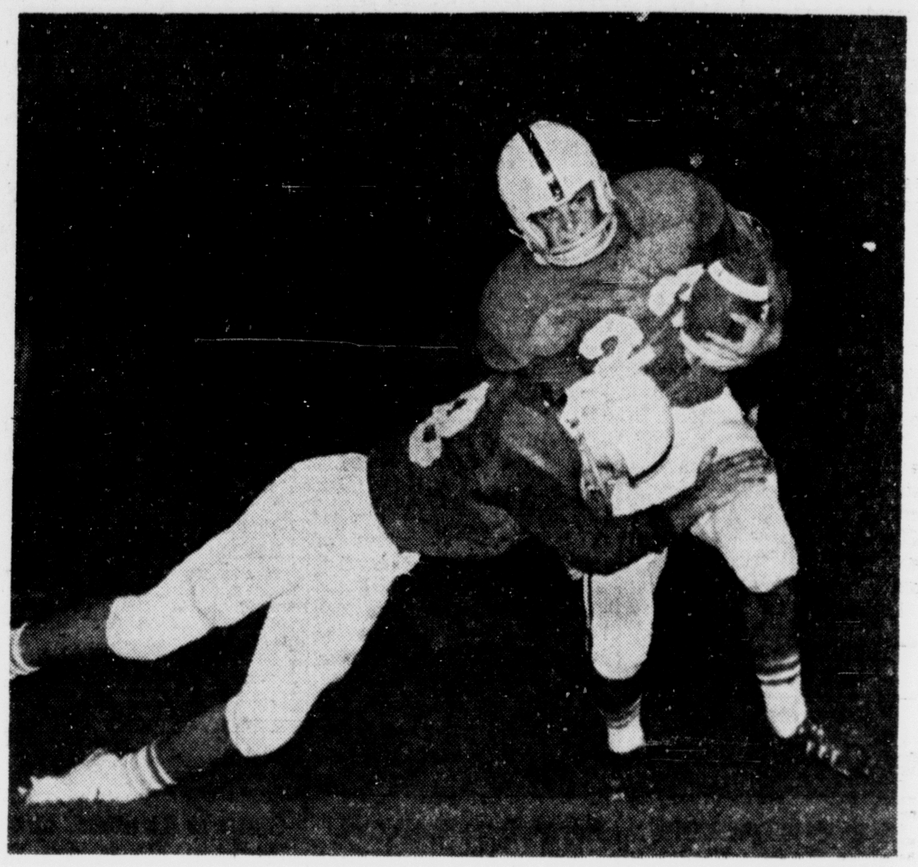
A doctor said there is no reason why Ford should not return to full activity.



CORDER CAUGHT — Novato's Tom Corder (21) of North caught pass and was wrestled to the turf by South's Len Pieri of Redwood in this first period action. Pass from John Dolinsek was good for seven yards and first down in North's first scoring drive.



LAZZ LASSOED — Heralded South halfback Dean Lazzarini of Drake (23) had trouble breaking loose for any of his famous long runs last night as North defense proved superior. Here Lazz is stopped by North's Joe Cunningham after only a small first period gain.

RICHARD READ usually doesn't drool in public but he used up two boxes of Kleenex just watching the game last night.

Read, you see, is head football coach at College of Marin, and one of his prize freshmen this year will be Novato's Dick Otis, whose 31 carries for 135 yards and two touchdowns wowed everyone.

I also noticed Uncle Sam drooling over the performance of San Rafael's John Balzan, the omnipresent defensive star who hits like a Sherman tank. Balzan has no college plans and probably will enter the military. Ours. I dearly hope.

Colts Favored Over Brownies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns and ex-Browns may dominate the playing field in numbers for tonight's pro football doubleheader here, but the Browns are being billed as underdogs in the fifth annual tilt.

Part of the lack of confidence in the Browns is the retirement of fullback Jim Brown and need for reshaping of the team's backfield. Another big question is the throwing arm of quarterback Frank Ryan.

Ryan has had his sore right elbow treated all week. He reported some improvement yesterday during the final workout before the Browns closed their Hiram, Ohio, training camp.

Coach Blanton Collier said he is counting on Ryan to start against the Baltimore Colts, but believes that Jim Ninowski, No. 2 quarterback, will pilot the club most of the game.

Otto Graham, former Browns' quarterback and now coach of the Washington Redskins, takes his battered team to the field tonight against the Minnesota Vikings in the first game at 3:30 p.m., PDT.

The doubleheader is a sellout, and those willing to pay for standing room may push the crowd to 83,000. (The Baltimore-Cleveland game will be seen on a delayed tape telecast at 9:30 p.m., PDT, Channel 5.)

Baltimore, coached by ex-Brown Don Shula, has scored 99 points in winning its three exhibition games this year over Washington, Philadelphia and St. Louis. Shula's aides include John Sandusky and Chuck Noll who played for the Browns in the 1950s.

Helping Coach Norm Van Brocklin mastermind the Vikings will be Lew Carpenter, who was with the Browns in the late '50s. Minnesota is undefeated in its last 14 exhibition games.

Ex-Browns returning as players are flanker Bobby Mitchell, tight end Preston Carpenter, linebackers Tom Goosby and Ed Bettridge, defensive back Jim Shorter and offensive tackle Fran O'Brien for Washington; place kicker Fred Cox, defensive tackle Paul Dickson and defensive end Jim Marshall for the Vikings.

Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly have been taking on the bulk of the ball carrying chores since the retirement of Brown, and, according to the Browns' linemen, the line and the new backfield are beginning to "communicate."

The Browns also are working on their defensive unit, which will find its work cut out in battling passes from Baltimore's Johnny Unitas. In their last meeting — the NFL championship in 1964 — Cleveland blanked Baltimore 27-0 and Unitas says he hasn't forgotten it.

In the NFL Saturday, New York plays Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J., in the afternoon and Pittsburgh is at Green Bay, St. Louis is at Los Angeles, Atlanta meets San Francisco at Columbia, S.C., and Dallas plays Detroit at Tulsa, Okla., at night.

Houston plays at Kansas City, Boston is at San Diego and New York takes on Buffalo at Allentown, Pa., Saturday night and Oakland is at Denver Sunday in American League exhibitions.

Jittery Mira Will Try To Keep Cool

George Mira will get a second chance at quarterback Saturday night when the San Francisco 49ers tackle the Atlanta Falcons in their fourth National Football League exhibition game.

Mira started the season opener against the Dallas Cowboys right after the 49ers' No. 1 quarterback last season, John Brodie, ended a lengthy holdout and joined the squad. The Cowboys won the game 24-13, and Mira says now he thinks he took the field a little nervous.

"Maybe I thought about the game too much," Mira said, "I studied the playbook over and over, and I took the field nervous."

"I think any player has to be keyed up for a game, but it's important for a quarterback to be cool. He has to direct the whole operation."

Otherwise, it will be the same offensive and defensive units that have been the regulars through the first three pre-season games with the team still looking for its first win.

Head coach Jack Christiansen said that despite the losses he was not disappointed with the overall picture.

"I hope I am right in my thinking that the three losses have been caused by upsetting factors that have happened in camp — people reporting late and contract battles. This has been too upsetting to produce winning football," Christiansen said.

The coach said he would not experiment with personnel in the Atlanta game and would try to get the club ready for the league season which starts in two weeks.

Mrs. Gondak Wins Tourney

Mrs. Charles Gondak won the Tin Whistle women's golf tournament yesterday at the Marin Country Club with 56 points. Points were scored on bogeys, pars and birdies.

$10 MILLION SALE

Chargers Stay In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Rumors that the American Football League's Chargers might leave San Diego have been quelled with the sale of the franchise to a group of Southern California businessmen for a record $10 million.

"The San Diego Chargers will remain exactly what the name involves—the San Diego Chargers," said Eugene Klein, 45, head of the group which bought the team from Barron Hilton.

Klein, also president of National General Corp., added that the Chargers will play in San Diego's new 50,000-seat Mission Valley Stadium currently under construction. The stadium is scheduled for completion by the 1967 season.

Negotiations for the sale, announced yesterday, began six months ago, according to Hilton.

But Klein added, "I've been at least seven years trying to buy an interest in a Los Angeles or San Diego ball club."

The $10 million selling price is the highest ever paid for a professional football team, surpassing the $7.1 million paid for the Los Angeles Rams in 1962. Before the recent merger of the AFL and the National Football League, the Chargers had been quoted as worth between $6 and $8 million.

Hilton said last year he planned to sell the team in order to devote more time to the Hilton Hotel chain he operates with his father, Conrad. At that time, there were rumors the team would be moved, but Hilton denied them.

Coach and General Manager Sid Gillman, who in the AFL's six-year history led the Chargers to more victories (54) and more division titles (5) than any other club, will retain his posts.

National General Executive Vice President Samuel Schulman is among the 21 partners, as is Pierre Salinger, vice president of Continental Air Lines; Eugene Wyman, attorney and Democratic National Committeeman; and Irving Levin, another National General executive vice president.

Newspaper owner James Copley and restaurateur George Pernicano, two owners under Hilton, will retain their interests.

Hilton and his father will retain 20 per cent control, while Klein and Schulman have bought another 20 per cent each and John Z. De Lorean, a vice president of General Motors' Pontiac Division, as 10 per cent at 20-3, will meet Claude Os-

National General Corp. owns Fox West Coast Theaters, but Klein said theater broadcasts of Charger games over closed-circuit television will occur only "when there are no more seats in the stadium."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Golfer Conks Speckled Trout; 33 Satisfied Rockfishermen

STEVENS

There are many methods of catching trout. Salmon eggs, worms, spinners and artificial flies to name a few but, to my knowledge, a resident of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, is the only fisherman who uses a golf ball and a number one wood to catch a speckled trout. According to Herman Deitch of San Rafael it happened and he sent me a clipping from the Herald of Calgary to prove it. One Lyle Philpott was the golfer-fisherman and the trout weighed 2½ pounds.

BETTY URBAIS of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle phoned in a good report of rockfishing; the boat Blue Horizon came to port with a satisfied group of 33 anglers who packed away to their waiting cars some 710 assorted rockfish, including 20 lings to 18 pounds. "Salmon trolling was fair to good," reported Betty. "The boat Tom Swift netted at least one salmon per rod with one or two limits to 25 pounds; the Chief boated 12 salmon to 30 pounds with 9 rods working; the Blue horizon trolled for salmon and landed 10 to 33 pounds; the Meramac netted 10 for 10 rods, with angler Frank Denney bringing in the top fish weighing an even 42 pounds." Not bad, eh?

A SHORT report from Jim Roads of Happy Camp (Klamath River Guide Service): "Klamath low and clear. A run of salmon and steelhead passed through Ishi Pishi Falls a few days ago. The fish are in the Ti-Bar to Somes Bar area now. Warm weather and adverse conditions make these fish hard to catch. The salmon should be in the Happy Camp area by the first of September. Best salmon lure is the Skip. Best bets for steelies are Silver Little Cleo and Little Jewel with night crawlers running a close second. Best flies: Silver Jack Scott and dark Woolly Worm."

CHANCES OF landing stripers in the Upper San Pablo Bay must be rated fair to good depending on who fishes where. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina called Wednesday to report that quite a few fish, some lunkers, have been taken on sardine and bullhead baits in the Buoys 10 and 12 area, as well as off the radar screen. "A few bass weighed in at 18 pounds," said Carl, then added: "Vince Bauer caught a nice salmon on a bullhead: the boat Pet, with six aboard, took 4 sturgeon and 1 bass; the half-day boat, 2 Dares, brought in 11 bass and a sturgeon; Bob and Margie Hogue of San Leandro aboard the 2 Dares took 2 bass to 8 pounds and a 70-pound sturgeon."

NOT A very exciting report, but a certain indication that both stripers and sturgeon are to be had. Oh yes, Carl also reported some founders were caught. Incidentally, Carl Bennett informed me that live shrimp are to be had at the Marina.

A LATE release from the Department of Fish and Game predidcts very good dove hunting — if the present weather holds.

Low water and rising temperatures have slowed down the restocking of catchable trout. Only one stream will be planted this week—the lower Nacimiento River in San Luis Obispo County.

Rhodes Is Star Bowler

Bill Rhodes was star bowler of the week at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael when he put together games of 237, 225, 211 and 191 for a whopping 864 series in the 540 Trios League.

PHILS, CUBS WIN; 'BOC' HOMERS

Ex-Giant Brandt Knocks Bucs Out Of League Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Philadelphia Phillies talk about flakes, they don't mean the breakfast variety.

Jackie Brandt, Philadelphia's journeyman outfielder, is the Phillies' own personal one-man show. He was one man too many for the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Brandt drove in two runs with a single and double as the Phillies downed Pittsburgh 4-1 behind Jim Bunning's eight-hitter. The defeat dropped the Pirates into second place in the National League, one half game behind the idle San Francisco Giants. Funny thing: Brandt used to play for the Giants.

"No, No," insisted Brandt. "I want to go to that 28 flavor place."

That was fine with Brandt's teammate except that the 28-flavor spot was 30 miles away. But Brandt won the argument and the teammates took the ride.

When they reached their destination, the other player ordered something scrumptious — the kind of treat you'd find in a 23-flavor spot.

And Brandt?

Now that's a flake.

The Pirates didn't think he was very funny though. His fourth inning double brought Dick Groat home with Philadelphia's second run of the inning. Johnny Callison had singled and scored on Groat's double.

In the sixth, Richie Allen singled, moved up on a sacrifice, and rode home on Brandt's second hit of the night.

JOHN BOCCABELLA
Homers for Cubs

In the American League, California defeated New York 5-1, Detroit blanked Chicago 8-0, Baltimore nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings and Boston swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 8-6 and 4-1.

The victory was the fourth in five starts against the Pirates for Bunning this season.

"I don't know how to account for it," the Phillies' ace said. "I just sort of accept it. I have to beat someone."

Tony Taylor, who stole three bases, accounted for Philadelphia's final run in the ninth inning after Brandt was finished. He reached on an error, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and stole home.

The Cubs beat the Mets in the ninth inning for the second straight day when Don Kessinger scored the winning run on rookie Bill Hepler's wild pitch.

Kessinger and Glenn Beckert had opened the ninth with singles. After Billy Williams fouled out, Ron Santo walked, filling the bases. Then the first pitch to Ernie Banks was wild, allowing Kessinger to score.

Marin Hunters Bag Big Game

Herman Hogrefe of Greenbrae bagged a moose, a caribou and a black bear during the encounter; and Owen (Jim) Corbett of Paradise Cay, Tiburon, conquered two Dall sheep, a moose, and a caribou. A third member of the hunting team, Bill Ferber, of San Francisco, injured his ankle and was unable to climb the steep slopes.

The party was accompanied by Ron Hayes, their bush pilot, and a guide. They flew 200 miles east of Anchorage by charter, and finally landed at the foot of Mt. Drum.

The big game hunting party fought winds which gusted between 30 and 90 miles per hour.

Sohner Team Shoots For Softball Title

With a 17-game winning streak and the championship of the Windsor Softball Tournament at stake, Sohner Tree Service will be after its second consecutive tournament title tonight in Healdsburg.

Depending on the outcome of last night's games in the loser's bracket of the double elimination tournament, Sohner will face either Stevenson's Equipment, Sebastopol Merchants or Sonoma Motors at 7:30 tonight.

Should Sohner lose the opener, game, the two teams would then play another contest to detemine the championship.

Sohner already holds wins over Sonoma and Sebastopol in tourney action.

Righthander Morey Swarm, a leading candidate for most valuable player in the tournament, will once again get the starting call. The Sohner hurler has pitched all three victories in the tournament.

Should Sohner lost the opener, Gary Swarm or Chuck Tyson would get the starting assignment in the second game.

Win or lose, tonight's action will conclude the regular season for Sohner. A hardball-softball exhibition with the semi-pro Mill Valley Merchants is slated for Sunday at Mill Valley's Project 17 Field.

THIS WEEK'S BUSINESS

CBS Reports Net Income Increase

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM, INC. reported an almost 30-per cent gain in net income for the first 26 weeks of 1966 as compared to the same period of 1965. Income for the 1966 period came to $28.4 million or $1.40 per share, as compared to $21.3 million or $1.10 per share for the year earlier period. Sales rose 14.5 per cent from $326 million to $374 million.

ROOS-ATKINS stockholders at a special meeting this week approved a two-for-one exchange of stock with Genesco, Inc.

FORD MOTOR CO. announced major additions to its Milpitas assembly plant and a second shift for the truck assembly line which will mean new employment for 500 persons and $4.5 million added payroll. Two plant additions, scheduled for groundbreaking Sept. 1 will add 123,000 square feet of production loading and storage area.

ABBEY RENTS, sickroom and party equipment rental company, reported record earnings for the fiscal year ended July 2. Per share earnings rose 23 per cent to $1.35 as compared with $1.10 in fiscal 1965. Revenues increased 22 per cent to $21 million dollars from $17 million dollars in the previous year. A new store was opened during the last year in Santa Clara. Remodeling is under way in San Francisco and a new store is nearing completion in Oakland.

NUTONE, INC., Los Angeles manufacturer of built-in music intercom systems, ventilation equipment and appliances, reported a first quarter sales increase, but said profits declined from the corresponding period a year ago. Net income in the 1966 period was 42 cent per common share compared with 51 cents in the 1965 quarter.

MOTOROLA SEMICONDUCTOR PRODUCTS assistant manager Steve Levy has predicted sales of integrated circuits throughout the electronic industry will top $157 million at year end. Levy said that by 1970 most television set designs will be composed of 80-per cent integrated circuits with only 20 per cent of the circuitry in discrete components. Motorola will start moving into a 300,000-square foot integrated circuit manufacturing complex in Mesa, Ariz. early next year, with expansion planned to go to 600,000-square feet.

FIRST OF 57 individual tube sections being completed this month to form the world's longest underwater transit tube will be floated from the Bethlehem Shipyards in San Francisco across the bay late this year and sunk into position off the Oakland shoreline. Before removal it will be lined with two feet of concrete at the outfitting dock. The tube will be the key link in the future 75-mile Bay Area Rapid Transit District network and extend four miles underwater.

Lyons Plans Restaurant In Marin

Plans have been announced by the Lyons Restaurant Division of Lyons-Magnus, Inc., for construction of a new coffee shop-restaurant and cocktail lounge to be located in the third unit of Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda, adjacent to Highway 101.

Construction is expected to begin in mid-September and completion is planned in January.

The restaurant will be located in a building being developed and constructed as a joint venture between Dohemann and Co. and Pacific Bridge Co.

Lyons operates 15 coffee shop-restaurants throughout Northern California and has others planned or under construction in Fremont and Concord.

State Manufacturing Expansion Reported

SAN FRANCISCO — Record employment levels, increased demands for metal manufactures, and a resurgent aerospace boom combined for 11 months of manufacturing expansion in California.

The Bank of California reports value added by manufactures reached an estimated $20.32 billion in July showing gains of .3 per cent for the month and 10.8 per cent over the year.

TVA Spends A Bit

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority says it bought more than $652 million worth of equipment, materials and services in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Supply Denial Will Cause Gas Burning

LOS ANGELES—The federal power commission's denial of a new, independent supply of natural gas for Southern California's battle against air pollution means millions of additional barrels of fuel oil will have to be burned in local steam-electric generating stations.

Southern California Edison Co. pointed this out today in a petition mailed to the FPC asking for a rehearing of the Gulf Pacific project case.

The commission rejected the Gulf Pacific project and certificated the so-call "tailored supply program" of the local gas companies in a decision handed down July 26.

One effect of this decision, the petition says, is that it establishes guideline controls which remove any reasonable likelihood in the future of increasing the level of gas service to Southern California for air pollution control reasons by means of any project requiring FPC approval.

Five-Year Ampex Earnings Jump

REDWOOD CITY — Ampex Corp's total net earnings for the last five years were approximately five times the company's earnings in all its prior 17 years of existence, William E. Roberts, Ampex president and chief executive officer has announced.

Roberts said Ampex earned $32,864,000 in the five years ended May 1, compared with $6.6 million in the previous 17 years. The company's average annual increase in earnings since 1962 has been 23 per cent.

Commenting on the company's growth, Roberts pointed out that a recent issue of Fortune Magazine listed Ampex seventh among the nation's top 20 industrial companies in sales growth 1955 through 1965.

Pan American Airlines Get Earnings Increase

SAN FRANCISCO—Pan American Airways net earnings in July were $15,206,000 compared to $12,040,000 in the same month last year, or 97 cents per share against 84 cents in 1965.

The July net is after payment made under a mutual aid pact to four of the five recently struck airlines, Pan Am reported. It paid them $7,340,000 for the period of July 8-31.

Wall Street Fears Profit Margin Thin

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits are under fire again. President Johnson is calling for business to show self-restraint in setting its profit margins and thus hold down inflation. Organized labor is charging that today's rising prices are due to soaring profits rather than to rising wages.

But down in Wall Street, nervous stock traders have been watching profits with other ideas in mind — fear that profits are peaking out and profit margins narrowing.

PROFIT RECORD

The news, of late, has spotlighted the record profits of many a concern. And housewives faced with rising prices have grumbled — and wondered who was getting the extra money.

The total of corporate profits has soared — along with most other things — in the Soaring Sixties.

In 1960 the nations' corporations reported profits of $44.2 billion before taxes and $22 billion after taxes. Based on performance in the first six months of 1966, the Department of Commerce puts profits before taxes as running at an annual rate of $82.9 billion this year, and after-tax profits at $48.7 billion.

This jump in corporate income, the President points out, compares with a 17 per cent rise in wages since 1960 and a 10 per cent rise in prices.

MARGIN STUDIED

The reply of business is that the dollar volume of profits has grown because the economy has grown.

The Gross National Product in 1960 was $502.6 billion. Today this measure of the total output of goods and services is running at $732.2 billion. Business argues that with the economy that much heftier, the dollar volume of profits should have risen even more than it did.

In Wall Street, they do not so much study how high the total of profit has grown but how it has behaved in relation to production and sales.

The average profit margin among manufacturers is running around 6.8 cents per sales dollar. This profit margin is the same as it was a year ago.

Wall Street figures that if a company nets 6.8 per cent profit on a million dollars in sales and still makes 6.8 per cent when sales have been boosted to $2 million, the important thing isn't that the total dollar volume of profits has gone up, but that the company's earnings performance should have been better with the greater activity. And stock traders prefer a company that makes more per dollar sales than do the average, and not less.

Glamor Stocks Hurt In Losing Market Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today for the ninth time in 10 sessions. Trading was active.

Prices fell from the start, steadied somewhat in early afternoon, then weakened once again.

Glamor stocks were hit hard. Losses of several points were taken by such stocks as Motorola, Fairchild Camera, Texas Instruments, Delta Airlines and Teledyne.

The key stocks which affect the averages declined from fractions to 2 or 3 points. Most sections of the list were weak.

Motorola toppled more than 11 points; KLM Airlines, Fairchild Camera and Texas Instruments about 8; IBM and Delta Airlines about 7; Continental Airlines and Teledyne 5; J. Ray McDermott, Northwest Airlines and Heckla Mining about 4.

Off about 3 were TWA, Scientific Data and SCM.

The market sank from the start and widened its losses until the afternoon when there was a partial recovery.

Du Pont came back to post a 2-point net gain. Zenith was up about 1½ and Texaco about a point. But losers far outnumbered gainers.

Selling was linked also to reports that investment funds were dumping stock yesterday.

'Wet Space' Exploring Advocated

SAN FRANCISCO — Mankind can receive "significantly greater" benefits from exploring the "wet space" of the oceans than from further exploration of outer space, R. N. Lane, President of Tracor, Inc., has told San Francisco Security analysts.

"There are virtually limitless opportunities in the ocean depths," Lane said.

"There is presently a world shortage of copper, but it is a known fact that at our present rate of consumption, the sea holds a million years supply of both copper and aluminum. By 1975 it has been estimated some 40 per cent of our oil will come from beneath the sea.

"Already a fellow Texan is mining diamonds off the coast of Africa with a dredging service, and plans are going forward for the underwater mining of numerous other minerals," Lane added.

"The ocean is also seen as a tremendous source of power, fresh water, and, most important of all, food for the earth's expanding population," he said.

"When one considers all the possibilities, I think it would be fair to say that the potential contribution to man's welfare that can be made by what might be called "wet space" far outweighs any gains that can be realistically estimated from further exploration of outer space."

Low Assessment, Fire District Trims Budget

The Novato Fire District will cut $26,285 from its capital improvement budget for fiscal 1967, because the assessed valuation of the district was not so large as expected.

Fire Chief George J. Cavallero told the district board Wednesday that the county auditor reported the district's assessed valuation at $61,410,840.

Commissioners voted to take $26,285 from the $70,000 budgeted for an aerial truck, rather than increase the tax rate to meet the budget. The rate is 75 cents.

"This will not delay the delivery of the truck because it will take a year after it is ordered to get it," Cavallero said.

Terra Linda Park District Votes Retirement Pay

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District Wednesday agreed to district payment of 3 per cent per month of an employee's salary toward retirement.

It will be up to individual employees to contract with retirement funds and put up the balance of the contribution, Recreation Director James Hand explained.

The board also established policy on vacations, setting two weeks after the first year and five weeks after the fifth year. Employees will be allowed one day of sick leave a month.

Jack Brandon, long chairman of the board, resigned from that position Wednesday, saying he though he might get more accomplished as a director. Norman Gurin was named chairman, and Brandon replaced Gurin as vice-chairman.

While a snow storm may be raging at the rim of the Grand Canyon, 2,000 feet below the temperature may be in the fifties.

Two Superdeep Russian Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. scientists say the Soviet Union has two "superdeep" drilling operations under way and plans three others.

This reaction followed congressional rejection of further funds for Project Mohole, designed to drill six miles deep through ocean and earth in man's deepest penetration of the planet.

The Mohole project chief, Daniel Hunt, said "it's just too bad to lose" the chance of penetrating into a vast and little understood region beneath the earth's crust.

"Someday, somebody will do this," he said.

Booked On Reissue Burglary Warrant

John Rundle, 19, of 919 Scott Street, Novato, was booked into Marin County Jail Wednesday by Novato police on a charge of burglary.

This was a reissue of a warrant against Rundle charging June 23 burglary of stereo tapes from the car of John Howard. Bail was set at $1,100.

X-15 Collects Space Dust

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — flight almost 50 miles into space — to collect space dust and test guidance equipment—was made by test pilot John McKay at the controls of an X-15 rocket plane.

The flight yesterday took the sleek black craft to 256,000 feet at a speed of 3,511 miles an hour to test guidance equipment designed for future Apollo moon vehicles.

McKay, a veteran test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, opened a wingtip pod in the higher reaches of the flight to gather space dust. The pod is designed to count particles, which could be a hazard for speedier craft, officials said.
